DARK SIDE: INDIA CLIMB UP TO THIRD IN WORLD DOPING LIST

According to the World Anti-Doping Agency's latest numbers, 17 per cent of all violations in 2019 were reported in India

BODYBUILDING, WEIGHTLIFTING LEAD THE WAY

At 57, bodybuilding, which traditionally sees a lot of doping violations, topped the list. Among Olympic disciplines, weightlifting, a sport that may be scratched because of its dope-tainted history, had 25 anti-doping rule violations (ADRVs). Athletics (20) and wrestling (10) came next. An ADRV is reported when a final decision has been taken by WADA

FROM FOURTH IN 2018 TO THIRD IN 2019

- In WADA's 2018 report, India recorded 107 ADRVs, with most violations in weightlifting (22) and athletics (16)
- In 2019, Russia topped the list with 167 ADRVs, followed by Italy (157). Brazil (78) was fourth on the list and Iran (70) fifth. In all, 2,78,047 samples were tested in WADA-accredited laboratories

Marshals in. Oppn walks out. Bill on Aadhaar seeding gets through RS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@New Delhi

TEMPERS ran high in the Rajya Sabha on Tuesday as it passed the electoral reforms bill on linking Aadhaar with the voter identity card amid Opposition walkout. Marshals were deployed to contain the possible fallout, and Trinamool member Derek O'Brien threw the rule book towards the secretary general's desk before joining the walkout.

With sloganeering Opposition members holding posters trooping into the Well of the House, marshals were called in, who formed a ring around the chair. An appalled Leader of Opposition in Rajya Sabha Mallikarjun Kharge shouted: "Is it a marshal law here?"

Members of the Congress, DMK, CPI(M) and Trinamool Congress moved separate resolutions to send the bill to a parliamentary standing committee for scrutiny. Amid the din, when deputy chairman Harivansh took up the resolutions, CPI(M)'s John Britas demanded division (voting) to take the call. But Harivansh said the process of voting cannot start till the members go back to their seats. The Opposition refused to relent and staged a walkout.

The Rajya Sabha then passed the Election Laws (Amendment) Bill, 2021, by voice vote. In the discussions earlier that lasted just 1 hour 10 minutes, Opposition members raised concerns about possible disenfranchisement of voters, adding the use of Aadhaar for ration and MGNREGA payments has led to many exclusions.

However, BJP member Sushil Modi pointed out that some Opposition members like Deepinder Hooda, Vivek Tankha and Sukhendu Sekhar Ray were part of the parliamentary standing committee that unanimously recommended that Aadhaar be linked to the electoral rolls. For his part, Ray (Trinamool) claimed he was not allowed to submit his dissent note on the matter in the committee headed by BJP MP Bhupender Yadav.

The Rajya Sabha is expected to be adjourned for good on Wednesday. P9

Derek O'Brien was suspended for rest of the session for throwing the rule book towards the secretary general's desk. He joins 12 others who were suspended for the entire session for unruly behaviour during the previous session.

ANTI-CONVERSION BILL TABLED AMID OPPN UPROAR

NAUSHAD BIJAPUR @ Belagavi

Amid ruckus in the Legislative Assembly with opposition members raising objections, the contentious anti-conversion Bill was tabled hastily at the ongoing winter session of the state legislature at Suvarna Vidhan Soudha on Tuesday.

A furious KPCC president and MLA DK Shivakumar tore a copy of the bill and threw at the treasury benches, saying this piece of legislation is anti-people.

Even as opposition members staged a walkout after a long-drawn verbal duel with ruling party members against the tabling of the Bill, Speaker Vishveshwar Hegde Kageri said that a debate on the Bill will be held on Wednesday.

The Karnataka Protection of Right to Freedom of Religion Bill 2021 has come under severe criticism from different quarters, mainly Congress and various Christian organisations and dioceses in the state.

Assembly Opposition Leader Siddaramaiah and Shivakumar said the Bill is discriminatory and against the Constitution. Amid uproar over the Bill being introduced even before all members of the Assembly entered the hall for the second half of the session, Siddaramaiah said, "The Bill has been tabled in a hurry with malafide intention. Why did the Speaker not wait for all members of the Opposition to be present before the Bill was tabled?"

> The Bill has been tabled in a hurry with malafide intention. Why did the Speaker not wait for all members of the Opposition to be present before the Bill was tabled?
>
> Siddaramaiah, Assembly Opposition Leader

Other opposition leaders too objected, saying the Bill was being introduced surreptitiously, while all the members could have been informed about it.

JDS MLA Bandeppa Kashempur said, "The Business Advisory Committee (BAC) has so far not discussed tabling of this Bill. BAC did throw light on all other bills, except the anti-conversion Bill."

Law Minister JC Madhuswamy and Home Minister Araga Jnanendra, while arguing with Siddaramaiah, said the BJP government had clarified and made it public that this Bill would be tabled. Allegations of Opposition members that it was introduced without anyone's notice is false, they added. CONTINUED ON: P4

Omicron more infectious, open war rooms, states told

SUMI SUKANYA DUTTA @New Delhi

THE Centre on Tuesday sounded fresh alarm bells over Omicron saying that available evidence suggests the new Covid variant is thrice more infectious than Delta. In a letter to chief secretaries, Union health secretary Rajesh Bhushan said states must activate war rooms for dynamic decision making in light of the rapidly evolving situation on the ground.

The development came on a day when Omicron cases in the country shot up to 217. On Tuesday, Odisha joined the list of states with confirmed cases (see box).

In his letter, Bhushan said there should be constant review of emerging data at the district level, about the population affected by Covid-19, geographical spread, hospital infrastructure and its utilisation, manpower, and notification of containment zones. If any district reports a test positivity rate of 10% or more, or if bed occupancy has touched 40% on oxygen supported / ICU beds, then restrictions must be imposed immediately to prevent further spread of infection, the letter suggested. The advisory also noted that states can take containment measures even before the specified thresholds are reached, based on the local situation.

The letter also called for door-to-door case search, testing of all cases of severe acute respiratory illness or influenza-like illnesses, and ensuring adequate RT-PCR tests are done.

A blanket of fog on the runway at the Kempegowda International Airport on Tuesday

Dense fog at airport disrupts several flights

Normal operations resume only by noon

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

VACATION plans of many flyers went off schedule on Tuesday morning due to severe fog conditions at the Kempegowda International Airport (KIA). Two flights were diverted, 62 outgoing flights and 18 incoming flights were delayed as a consequence.

The disruption occurred despite the South Runway being CAT-III compliant to ensure landing and takeoff under poor visibility conditions. Flights resumed normal operations only by afternoon.

A spokesperson for the airport operator Bangalore International Airport Limited (BIAL) said, "On December 21, 46 flights landed under CAT-III conditions, while two flights were diverted to Chennai as the crew were not qualified for CAT-III operations." An Air India flight from Abu Dhabi to Kannur, which was supposed to land at Bengaluru, was diverted to Chennai. A cargo flight of SpiceJet from Hyderabad was diverted to Chennai.

The spokesperson added that CAT-III operations come into effect when visibility drops to below 550 metres. As per DGCA mandate, the crew must be qualified and trained for instrument approaches to lowest CAT I, II, III conditions," the spokesperson added.

An airport source said that poor visibility conditions prevailed between 3 am and 9 am with visibility range between 0.05 km and 4 km. The Airport Meteorological department was unable to respond to queries on exact weather conditions.

Delays for flights ranged between 20 minutes and 70 minutes. Among the departing flights which were delayed from Bengaluru were the Indigo flight to Kochi (6E 6445), SpiceJet flight (SG136) to New Delhi, GoFirst (G8 385) to Mumbai, Spicejet to Mangaluru (SG 4009).

Foggy conditions have regularly impacted flights at KIA from mid-November to mid-February since its inception.

A year ago, the South Runway was announced as the first CAT-III compliant runway in South India. The BIAL had then announced that it could facilitate aircraft landing with a Runway Visual Range as low as 50 metres and takeoffs at 125 metres. "Until now, the permissible visual range was 550m and 300m for landing and takeoff, respectively," it stated. The older North Runway, which was fully refurbished, is not CAT-III compliant.

Car-bike rally at fragile Nandi Hills kicks up dust

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

THE bike and car rally at Nandi Hills, scheduled to be held on December 25 and 26 and promoted by the Chikkaballapur district administration and Department of Youth Empowerment and Sports, has raised concerns in different quarters.

Officials of the Forest Department, along with locals and conservationists, have raised objections to the conduct of the event. They reason that the fragile Nandi Hills should be conserved and cleanliness and greenery maintained. They also point out that Nandi Hills has witnessed landslides only in August.

Department of Youth Empowerment and Sports Deputy Director Jitendra Shetty said the department is partially funding and supporting the event as it is being done for the first time on the hills.

According to the event organisers, the bike and car race — Race to the Clouds — is being held on the last seven hairpin bends atop Nandi Hills. The organisers say the event is similar to the Pikes Peak International Hill Climb organised in Colorado every year.

Interestingly, the logo of the Tourism Department is also being used to draw participants, but officials of the department say that they are not aware of any such event. "We had only partnered for the rally held in Hampi last month, not for this," said a senior Tourism Department official.

Santhosh H M, Motorsports Academy, one of the event organisers, said this is the first time a rally like this is being held in India. The earlier plan for the event was to conduct it at Mullayyanagiri Hills in Chikkamagalur or at Chandpur on the border of West Bengal and Nepal.

"The venue was also approved by the Youth Empowerment Department. Permission has been obtained from the district administration and a total of 150 participants will be allowed on both the days. The general public is not allowed," Santhosh said.

However, Forest Department officials point to the protection of the fragile eco-system. "Though the event is being held on the road and not in the jurisdiction of the Forest Department, the surroundings are. The highway or city roads can be used for such racing events. When the government is working on banning vehicles to the hilltop, organising such racing events should also not be allowed," said a senior Forest Department official.

PROTRUSION AT MINSK SQUARE GOES, TRAFFIC TO FLOW EASILY

DONNA EVA @ Bengaluru

AFTER rain delays and months of work, the Bengaluru Metro Rail Corporation Ltd (BMRCL) has finally removed a footpath projection at Minsk Square. The projection was meant to be a high-speed pier. Instead, it proved to be causing a bottleneck and was hampering easy traffic flow at the intersection.

Work on removing the protrusion officially concluded on Tuesday with a part of it being sectioned off and asphalted to make for easy flow of traffic. The move comes after a years-long campaign from Citizens for Citizens (C4C) which had highlighted the difficulties caused by the protrusion way back in 2017.

With the help of Police Commissioner Kamal Pant and Joint Police Commissioner (Traffic) Dr Ravikanthe Gowda, the organisation approached BMRCL earlier this year to address the issue. A video shot by C4C showed the protrusion creating a bottleneck, blocking traffic on Cubbon Road, Raj Bhavan Road and Queen's Road. "During rush hour every day, there were many near-misses too as motorists had to keep a constant eye to their right so that they wouldn't be hit while stuck in traffic. It was a problem that persisted for many years," Rajkumar Dugar, founder and convener of C4C, told TNIE.

The protrusion removed at Minsk square | EXPRESS

"We wanted to give up just trying to navigate the system, but we're glad we persisted and that BMRCL MD Anjum Parwez was open-minded and helped provide a solution to the problem," said Dugar, "There are many such instances in Bengaluru and we advise that people to keep persisting in their efforts."

Urja to start tunnelling from Cantonment stn

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE first of the nine Tunnel Boring Machines (TBMs) to complete its job, Urja, will kickstart another leg of its underground tunnelling on Wednesday. The 907 metres stretch between Cantonment Metro station and Pottery Town will take atleast 6 months for completion. The operation has suffered a delay of at least a fortnight due to heavy rain in Bengaluru.

The Chinese-made Urja emerged at ground level in the presence of CM Basavaraj Bommai on September 22 after completing 855 metres in 419 days between Cantonment and Shivaji Nagar. All the TBMs are being deployed to build a 13.8-km Underground Corridor on the Nagawara-Kalena Agrahara (Gottigere) line running 21.26 km.

According to a Metro official, Urja was dismantled and transported by road using trailers to Cantonment. The TBM also encountered a minor mishap when a part of the machine brushed against the vertical column of the Trinity Metro station on MG Road on November 18, which was reported exclusively by TNIE.

"Urja, which weighs nearly 500 tonnes, was fully reassembled over 45 days 60 feet below the ground. Over 100 men will be involved in carrying out the tunnelling," he said. Larsen & Turbo has been contracted with the job.

University to offer midday meal to students

PEARL MARIA D'SOUZA @ Bengaluru

COLLEGE students who traverse long distances to attend class, will be given free lunch ranging from rice sambar to mudde sambar, at the newly established Nrupatunga university. The Nrupatunga University (formerly Government Science College) has identified 250 undergraduate and post students who will be given midday meals from Wednesday. Students will be given a coupon to avail the meal from 11:45 am during their common break. Interestingly, most of the funding for these meals comes from their lecturers.

Each teacher has pitched in anywhere between Rs 5,000 and Rs 15,000, towards the initiative that will span three months or a semester. Should more funds coming in from benefactors, the number of students benefitting would increase as well.

This is not the first time that the institute has run such a programme. Every year, about 300-500 UG and PG students are identified depending on the funds available, Kavitha K.R., Registrar Administration, Nrupatunga University told TNIE.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

22nd December : Would you like to travel to other worlds? Like everything else these days, it will be private businesses, not governments, who take us to the planets. My dream is to travel to the Moon and watch the Earth, with all its thousands of cities and billions of people, rise and set. They say it's a beautiful, wondrous, life-changing sight.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Make the most of friendly business planets, and cash in on current goodwill. You must believe that new opportunities are on the way and should act now to broaden your social contacts and encourage new connections. Only when partners are in agreement will you be free to act.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
As long as Venus is well-placed, you may expect plenty of action and enjoyable group activities. However, your social life will tend to focus on work. Perhaps there'll be a new colleague appearing on the scene. At the very least, friendly contacts could soon ease the way into a new job.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Some happy surprises could affect money matters or home affairs. This looks like the time to stabilise and formalise domestic arrangements which until now may have been left up in the air. You might have to step back from an emotional encounter if the heat is just too much to bear.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
The whole mood of the day encourages formal settings, traditional behaviour and conservative values, so do try to fit in. It may even be fun to enter into the fantasy of living in a past age. Over the next few months, you'll be growing ever more nostalgic for the past.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Your home and working life are well starred, but you must be aware of an approaching financial crisis. Get your affairs in order and act now if there are any outstanding bills to pay or loans to call in. And if partners object, make them see that there's no choice.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
The tension is now building up, as it does once or twice a month when the planets form certain intriguing patterns. You are now reaching a moment of decision and will at last be forced to get off the fence. And that, I should think, is no bad thing at all!

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
You may feel reasonably justified in expecting a response to a recent interview or at the very least an answer to an important question. However, planetary activity over the coming days is due to muddy the waters even further. Plus, you should be able to start dealing with real, underlying problems.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Any changes that you are anxious to put into effect may involve more people than you at first thought. This is why you must grit your teeth and discuss even your personal plans with friends and acquaintances. On the other hand, when partners are so reluctant, do you really need their support?

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
It is at the most trivial level that your grand plans are capable of coming unstuck. So, issues of principle are all very well, but you would be advised to focus on routine and mundane details. Plus, there'll be time enough for flights of fancy next month!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Restless conditions may make it difficult to settle down, so it may be better to get around and explore fresh possibilities. Is there a legal complication to resolve? If so, get on to it without delay. Even though you have strong opinions, by the way, that doesn't mean that you're right.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Long-standing money problems may be coming home to roost. Yet rather than feel sorry for yourself, or dwell on what might have been, adopt an attitude of business as usual and compensate for any losses. You are well on the way to a surprise success.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Whether your concerns are professional or strictly private do not expect life to run smoothly today. Even if you do your best, someone else is bound to come along and stir things up, defeating all your efforts to restore peace and harmony - but only until you recover your composure!

MUTED CELEBRATION

Restrictions on public gathering at NY parties

Curbs from Dec 30; restaurants, pubs to operate at 50 pc capacity

CHETANA BELAGERE
@Bengaluru

Given the prevailing Covid-19 situation, with cases rising and the threat of the Omicron variant spread in Karnataka, New Year celebrations across the state will be subdued. Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Tuesday announced restrictions on gathering of people in public places for New Year celebrations and at pubs, bars and restaurants. These restrictions will come into effect from 30 December till 2 January.

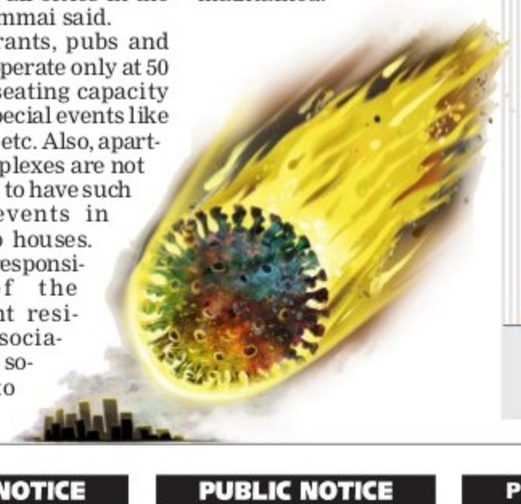
"With the recent developments in the Covid-19 situation and tracing of the Omicron variant in the state, experts from the Technical Advisory Committee have recommended certain restrictions. Based on their suggestions, mass gatherings in places like MG Road, Brigade Road, etc., are not allowed. This applies to all cities in the state," Bommai said.

Restaurants, pubs and bars can operate only at 50 per cent seating capacity with no special events like DJ music, etc. Also, apartment complexes are not permitted to have such special events in their club houses. "It is the responsibility of the apartment residents' associations and societies to ensure that all Covid-19 protocols and restrictions are strictly implemented," the CM added.

Two doses of vaccination is compulsory for those going to pubs, bars etc., and RT-PCR test is mandatory for all employees of these places.

Meanwhile, the state Health Department has released similar guidelines with SOPs for Christmas celebrations too. All churches have been asked to follow Covid-19 guidelines during religious prayers and gatherings. Also, no public places, roads, parks, etc., can be used for Christmas celebrations.

The TAC had met on December 15 to discuss in detail the restrictions that are needed to be in place to ensure that the present daily reporting of about 300 cases in Bengaluru and the daily test positivity rate (TPR) of 0.40% are maintained.



MAKE NOTE OF THESE

All persons, including employees, visitors and customers, should be vaccinated with two doses and it should be checked meticulously at the entrance.

All the staff of the establishment should have a negative RT-PCR certificate that is not older than 72 hours.

All persons shall be asymptomatic, that is free of fever, cough, cold, throat pain, breathing difficulties, etc. and shall be screened at the entrance

Individuals should maintain a minimum distance of 1 metre/3 feet in public places as far as feasible.

Compulsory use of face masks.

Pubs, bars to operate with only 50% seating capacity

No urgency to jab kids, feels panel

CHETANA BELAGERE @ Bengaluru

A health worker collects swb samples of a girl in Bengaluru on Tuesday | SHRIRAM BN

VACCINATION for children may be further delayed as members of National Technical Advisory Group on Immunisation in India (NTAGI) have felt that there is no need to inoculate children against Covid-19 and available data shows no urgency. The Centre is presently reviewing its Covid-19 vaccination plan and it was expected to take a decision by December-end on booster shots and vaccines for children. Now a decision may be taken only sometime later next year.

Speaking to TNIE, Dr Jayaprakash Muliyil, a member of the committee, said discussions are continuing over this but, as of now, looking at the data across the world, there is no urgency to vaccinate children. "From the data across the world and in India, there are very few children below 12 years of age who died due to Covid. The Covid-related deaths among children in India have been due to other serious illnesses like cancer, leukaemia etc, and cannot be attributed to Covid-19 complications. They would not have survived even if they were vaccinated," said Dr Muliyil, Professor, Christian Medical College, Vellore, and one of the country's leading epidemiologists.

According to him, the experts on the committee observed that the sero-survey results in India have also found that a majority of the children have been infected during the Delta-dominated second wave. When a vaccine is approved, it is important to look into risk versus benefits. "Considering that we are talking of children, it was deliberated that the ratio of major benefits is not seen in giving them vaccinations and a small risk may then get magnified," he explained. When asked if emergence of the new variant of concern, the Omicron, would play a role in approving vaccines for children, he said there is no data to prove this and added that he was not aware of children having any complications.

Speaking about the need for booster dose, he said that data from countries like the UK and the US has shown that even those with three doses of vaccines have got infected with Omicron and hence "preventing infection won't be possible even with a booster. Also, in India, most of us have acquired natural immunity and a good number of people have been vaccinated."

However, he also clarified that no report has been submitted to the Centre yet and these were the deliberations of the working group. "We will not say never give vaccines to children. That cannot be said. It is a process and discussions are happening still," he added. The authorities had earlier green-litghted two Covid-19 vaccines for children — Covaxin and ZyCoV-D. However, these are yet to become available for the public.

Anti-conversion Bill may hit bump in Upper House

BJP sure of passing it in Jan, if not now, when it'll have more numbers

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

The Assembly in session at Suvarna Vidhana Soudha in Belagavi on Tuesday

THE Karnataka Protection of Right to Freedom of Religion Bill, 2021, or the anti-conversion Bill, which was tabled in the Assembly on Tuesday, is expected to be hotly debated in the lower house before facing more hurdles in the Legislative Council where the ruling BJP lacks the numbers. However, the hurdle is a temporary one as it will only be in the current session.

The BJP enjoys clear majority in the Assembly, but the party may find it difficult to get it through the Council in the ongoing session which ends on December 24 as it still does not have full majority on its own.

The BJP's numbers increased after the recent Council elections to 25 seats, and the new members will take oath after January 5 when the tenure of current members will end. As of now, the BJP has 32 members in the 75-member Upper House and requires the support of the JDS if it has to get the bill passed in this session.

But, after January 5, its numbers will increase to 37 and will be just one short of majority as the party increased its tally by five seats in the December 10 election. The BJP is, however, confident of roping in independent MLC Lakhan Jarkiholi to get the Bill passed through the Council. Sources in the BJP said the Bill will be cleared in the Assembly now and it will be passed in the Council during the next session.

The other option is, if the Bill is rejected in the Upper House, it will be taken back to the Assembly and passed again to make it a law. In case the Opposition decides to walk out in the Council, the Bill can still be passed. But that scenario is unlikely. "But most probably, the Council will pass it in the joint session in January itself," sources in the BJP said.

JDS MLC B M Farooq said the party will oppose the Bill when it is tabled in the Council. "They want to bring the UP model to Karnataka. The Bill was brought without any discussions with religious heads, opposition parties or anyone. We will oppose it," he said.

Archbishop slams Bill

BENGALURU: Archbishop Peter Machado on Tuesday expressed his sadness at the State Government going ahead with the anti-conversion Bill despite making so many requests. "It is a terrible Bill. It is not only affecting Christians, but it will also affect other people much more. This is like making Christian conversion the worst criminal offence. This is too much," he said. He said there are stalwarts and principled persons in the BJP and even now they should rethink the Bill. He said they are not a party to forced conversions and the authorities can take action against it as there are enough existing laws and regulations. The Archbishop said they will face many problems even in education, healthcare and other service activities, discouraging Christians from taking up service activities as the Bill will make way for anyone to accuse them of trying to convert people. ENS

It is only for political gains, says Shivakumar

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Belagavi

IN the backdrop of the debate on the anti-conversion Bill, KPCC President D K Shivakumar said that the children of at least 21 Union Ministers are studying in Christian educational institutions as per a documentary made by a private organisation. The Bill has been brought unconstitutionally for political gains, he charged.

"There are no instances to prove that someone has been converted through such institutions. Christians have been there in the country for centuries, running various institutions including hospitals and schools, but they never converted people forcibly anywhere," he claimed. The Mughals ruled for centuries, but the population of Muslims remained unchanged. The British and Portuguese also ruled India, but they never did anything to convert Indians and the population of Christians never increased in the country, he added.

Shivakumar said the Congress party will oppose the Bill which, he said, was against the Constitution. Several people hailing from different religions from abroad join ISKCON and other congregations every year and participate in bhajans, Shivakumar said, adding that they all will feel awkward if such legislations are enacted. India has been a secular nation where there is scope for people of all religions to live with respect. Efforts were being made to disturb peace, he said.

STATE GOVT WILL SHOWCASE B'LURU AS MODEL CITY, SAYS CM

PRAMODKUMAR VAIDYA @ Belagavi

NECESSARY steps are being taken to improve infrastructure and showcase Bengaluru as a model city and this will be replicated in other important cities in the state, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai has said.

Replying to a query raised by Congress member K J George in the Assembly on Tuesday, Bommai said that in addition to the Smart City Mission, the funds released to the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palik (BBMP) and other departments are being utilised to provide necessary infrastructure. Advanced traffic signalling systems, proper parking facilities and even small issues such as changing the police uniform are under consideration.

Pointing out that Bengaluru development and the state's fiscal condition are inter-related, the CM, who holds both the portfolios of Finance and Bengaluru Development, said he has been making an honest attempt to ensure justice to the city. High priority, both in timing and financially, are given to the affairs of the BBMP and fair demands of the members will be considered, he added.

Of the Rs 493 crore released under the Smart City Mission, Rs 416 crore has already been spent. The road works taken up under the mission will be completed by March next year. Once the development programmes are implemented successfully in Bengaluru, they will be replicated in other major cities, he added.

CM Basavaraj Bommai makes a point in the Assembly on Tuesday

Bommai explains why Bengaluru roads are not free of potholes

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

WHY are Bengaluru roads are dug up frequently and why over Rs 20,000 crore has been spent on asphalting and repairing roads over the last five years, asked a Congress MLC PR Ramesh who had served as a mayor of Bengaluru.

He asked Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai how out of 11,283 km of roads in the city, not even one kilometre is free of potholes. He wanted to know if unscrupulous elements were claiming repeat bills for the same work and if there was a work audit to stop abuse of the system.

Bommai responded that Bengaluru roads are not used exclusively for vehicular movement as utilities like power, LPG and water lines too are laid under them. Because of recent heavy rain, the condition of roads has deteriorated, he added.

He said that BWSSB has taken up a challenging task of laying underground drainage pipes (UGD) to connect 110 villages which had been brought under the jurisdiction of Bengaluru. There is work in progress to lay 6,000 km of cables underground. GAIL too is laying 1,500 km of gas pipelines. Because of these and other essential works, the government is facing a challenge in maintaining pothole-free roads, he added.

From December 10, the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagar Palike has started asphalting of430 arterial and sub-aterial roads. Of these, 311 roads measuring 834 km have been made pothole free. On the remaining 159 km of roads, the work is in progress.

He said that on 180 km length of roads, work is in progress and it is being done in stages. In over 100 km of road length, white topping works has been completed and along 30 km of road length, the TenderSure road work is in progress, he explained.

Bill to rename agriculture university passed in Assembly

BELAGAVI: The Assembly on Tuesday passed four Bills. The University of Agricultural Sciences (Amendment) Bill was brought by the government to rename the University of Agriculture and Horticultural Sciences (UAHS), Shivamogga, as Keladi Shivappa Nayaka Agriculture and Horticultural Science University. The Assembly also passed the Karnataka State Ayush University Bill by voice vote. It encourages the establishment of Karnataka State Ayush University with headquarters in Shivamogga. Interestingly, some members wanted the government to set up the university in their respective districts. The Assembly also passed the Karnataka State Civil Services (Regulation of Transfer of Teachers-Second Amendment) Bill which will ensures transparency and equitable opportunities in transfers of principals/lecturers of PU colleges, availability of lecturers in rural areas and streamline the process of transfer and posting of lecturers by providing options and flexibility to seek posting of their preferences. The Karnataka Municipal Corporation and Certain Other Laws (Amendment) Bill was also passed to lower the tax burden for industries functioning within the corporation limits by adding another category in addition to domestic and commercial properties. Several members demanded that government also lower property tax levied on vacant land, to which Urban Development Minister Byrathi Basavaraj said the government will certainly consider their demand.

Discussion will be held today: Kageri

KAGERI said rules of the House have been followed while introducing the Bill and discussions will be held on Wednesday before its passage. "The idea is to give ample time to the opposition and ruling party members to read the Bill before debating on it. That is why I want the discussion on Wednesday," he said, responding to Siddaramaiah, who wanted to know why a debate could not be held on Tuesday itself.

Opposition members wondered whether the discussion is possible on Wednesday as the Speaker has set aside the next two days for discussing issues related to North Karnataka. But Kageri clarified that he would draw up a fresh agenda including the debate on this Bill.

Sources from Opposition benches said they would raise the heat on the Bill and also stage a dharna. Ruling party members, however, indicated that when opposition legislators boycott the debate as expected, the Bill would be passed.

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Tuesday informed the Assembly that the State Government has enhanced the compensation given to farmers whose crops have been damaged in the recent rain and floods. This move will mean an additional burden of Rs 1,200 crore on the exchequer. Bommai was responding to issues raised by MLAs of various flood-hit constituencies.

"As per NDRF norms, Rs 6,800 per hectare is given for dry land. To this, the government will add Rs 6,800 per hectare, which means Rs 13,600 per hectare will be given. For irrigated land, Rs 13,500 per hectare is given under NDRF norms and we will add Rs 11,500 per hectare, totalling up to Rs 25,000 per hectare. For horticulture crops, Rs 18,000 per hectare is being given and we will add Rs 10,000 and give Rs 28,000 per hectare," Bommai said.

Revenue Minister R Ashoka said that Rs 926.43 crore has been credited directly to the accounts of farmers hit by rain and floods. He said a joint survey will be conducted to ensure that the compensation is disbursed at the earliest. Interestingly, while Bommai informed the Assembly that crops on 12.69 lakh hectares were damaged, Ashoka put the number at 12.52 lakh hectares. Ashoka said the state had submitted memorandum twice to the Centre seeking financial aid. "We initially sought Rs 841.57 crore and later an additional Rs 128.92 crore," he added.

He said Rs 18,000 per acre has been given as compensation for coffee growers and a total of Rs 38.80 crore has been disbursed till date. "Sixty-two people have died in the rain and floods and 945 animals have died," he said. The Centre is expected to release Rs 5,270 crore under the 15th Finance Commission, but the CM has asked for more funds, Ashoka said.

"As many as 23,716 houses have been damaged and the government has released Rs 332.87 crore as compensation. While Rs 5 lakh was paid as compensation for completely collapsed houses, Rs 3 lakh was given for heavily damaged houses and Rs 50,000 for partially damaged houses," he added.

Beg, borrow or steal, but complete UKP: SR Patil to govt

THE state government should set aside 10 per cent of the GDP for two years to complete the Upper Krishna Project (UKP), which requires over Rs 60,000 crore, said Opposition Leaders in the Council SR Patil during the ongoing Legislature session on Tuesday.

"Around 1.33 lakh acres of land needs to be acquired and 20 villages, which will submerge, will have to be shifted. Beg, borrow or steal, but complete the project," he said. Council members suggested that the government take up river, road, industrial and infrastructure projects and also look for employment generation in North Karnataka, as the House was discussing issues related to the development of the region.

Patil said that once UKP gets completed, another 130 tmcft of water can be stored in the Almatti reservoir which will feed an additional 15 lakh acres of agricultural land in seven districts, including Bagalkot, Vijayapur, Gadag, Kalaburagi and Raichur. "At 519.6 m height, the reservoir can store 173 tmcft of water. Once the land acquisition process gets over and the reservoir height increases to 524.25 m, total storage will be 304 tmcft. In all, it will feed over 30 lakh acres of agricultural land," he said. He demanded that the government take up the Mahadayi project. JDS MLC KT Srikantegowda said the project was envisaged by the SR Bommai commission in 1978.

KKRTC stops plying buses to Maharashtra

ENS @Kalaburagi

THE Kalyana Karnataka Road Transport Corporation has stopped its bus services to Maharashtra from Monday evening after a third incident of defacing KKRTC buses over the last 3 days, said KKRTC Chief Traffic Manager Santoshkumar here on Tuesday.

He said activists of some organisations have written slogans like 'Jai Shivaji' and blackened KKRTC buses in Maharashtra and along Karnataka border. "KKRTC staff and passengers are scared to travel to Maharashtra. That is why, it was decided to stop plying buses to Maharashtra," he said. The Maharashtra Transport Corporation has stopped running buses to Karnataka for over a month now as the staff there is demanding a salary hike.

K'taka urges Cauvery authority to clear project

PRAMODKUMAR VAIDYA

IN order to expedite the implementation of the long-pending Mekedatu balancing reservoir project across the Cauvery, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Tuesday informed the Assembly that the State Government has urged the Cauvery Water Management Authority (CWMA) to clear the project's Detailed Project Report (DPR) in its next meeting.

Mekedatu in Kanakapura taluk

During Question Hour, Bommai reiterated his government's commitment to implement the project. "The DPR is before the CWMA. The authority has held two meetings in this regard," he said. The Central Water Commission has given in-principle clearance to the project with a rider that the State Government should get the CWMA's nod.

Bommai said the project is necessary to address water scarcity during distress years and to solve the drinking water crisis of several districts, including Bengaluru. "Karnataka has no other option left to store surplus water. This surplus water can be used by both Karnataka and Tamil Nadu during distress years," he added. Bommai said measures will be taken to get environmental and wildlife board clearance to implement the project. "Water from the project will be used for drinking and power generation purposes only. The question of using the water for irrigation does not arise as the project site is located downstream of the Cauvery," he added.

Congress to launch 10-day padayatra

BENGALURU: The Karnataka unit of the Congress will launch a 10-day padayatra from Mekedatu in Kanakapura to Bengaluru — a distance of around 175km — on January 9 demanding that the State Government implement the Mekedatu project across the Cauvery. KPCC president DK Shivakumar told reporters in Belagavi: "This project will help farmers and also meet the drinking water needs of Bengaluru. It will also help in generating 400MW of electricity. This is our land, our water, our project and our money."

PM in vax report: ₹1L fine for 'frivolous' plea

Kerala High Court says petitioner has to pay within 6 weeks or it should be recovered from his assets

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kochi

THE Kerala High Court on Tuesday imposed ₹1 lakh fine on a senior citizen who sought removal of Prime Minister Narendra Modi's photo from the Covid vaccination certificate. The court termed the petition 'frivolous' filed with ulterior motives.

Justice P V Kunhikrishnan imposed the cost while dismissing the petition filed by Peter Myaliparambil, Kaduthuruthy, Kottayam seeking to declare that the PM's photograph on the certificate is an infringement of fundamental rights.

S Manu, Assistant Solicitor General of India, submitted the petition itself is a frivolous one and the court should not entertain this type of publicity oriented litigations.

The court observed "a citizen of the country argues before the High Court that carrying the photographs of his prime minister in the vaccination certificate with a morale-boosting message in a pandemic situation is an intrusion into his privacy and this is a 'compelling view'. These are frivolous contentions which are never expected from a citizen."

"According to me, an amount of ₹1 lakh should be imposed as cost. I know this is a big amount as far as a citizen is concerned. But when these types of frivolous contentions are raised by the petitioner, he should know the effect and the society should also know that if frivolous petitions are filed, the court will not accept them," the court observed.

The petitioner has been asked to pay the cost within six weeks to the Kerala State Legal Service Authority which the court said is doing a great service in Kerala by helping the poor genuine litigants. If the amount is not paid by the petitioner, then the authority should recover it from the assets of the petitioner.

COUNTERSTRIKE

Shah asks TS BJP to take on KCR over paddy issue

BJP MP and Telangana unit president Bandi Sanjay greets Union Home Minister Amit Shah in New Delhi on Tuesday | EXPRESS

R PRIDHVI RAJ @ Hyderabad

TAKING a serious view of the frontal attack by the TRS on procurement of Rabi and Kharif rice, the BJP has decided to launch a searing counter-offensive with all guns blazing.

Union Home Minister Amit Shah, who conferred with Union Minister G Kishna Reddy and party MPs from Telangana, including BJP State president Bandi Sanjay Kumar, at his chamber in Parliament on Tuesday, said that he would personally take charge of the attack on the TRS which was misleading the people on paddy procurement.

The BJP top leader said he would visit Telangana for two days and call the TRS' bluff on paddy procurement and other issues. He asked the MPs and the BJP State president to draw up a programme for his two-day visit to explain to people the TRS' political charade, which was intended only to cover its ineptness in handling the paddy issue.

Amit Shah's seriousness about the TRS upping the ante against the BJP is being seen as the saffron party's first decisive step to take the pink party by its horns ahead of the Assembly elections, which are less than two years away in 2023. The saffron brigade wants to be seen as the only party that can measure up to TRS in the electoral battlefield, and not the Congress which anyway is not out of the woods yet.

The party's decision to go for KCR's jugular is also intended to dispel the notion that has been created by the Congress that both the BJP and TRS had tacit understanding to help each other out contrary to their public posturing.

At the meeting with BJP MPs from Telangana, which was also attended by Union Minister for Food and Public Distribution Piyush Goyal, Amit Shah sounded categorical that the party leaders should not spare the TRS, come what may. He advised them to ignore the Centre-State relations which had no bearing on BJP's political programmes.

I-T raids 30 places in B'luru, UP, Kolkata

EXPRESS NEWS SERVIEC @Bengaluru

THE Income Tax Department carried out search and seizure operations on December 18 on various people and their business entities involved in civil construction and real estate, and in running educational institutes in Uttar Pradesh and Karnataka.

A Kolkata-based entry operator was also covered in the search operations, stated the Ministry of Finance in an official release on Tuesday. The search covered more than 30 premises spread across various locations, including Lucknow, Mainpuri, Mau, Kolkata, Bengaluru and NCR.

It was found that several entities, engaged in civil construction, were involved in claiming bogus expenditure running into crores of rupees. Incriminating documents, including blank bill books, stamps and signed cheque books of bogus suppliers were found and seized.

According to the Finance Ministry, a Bengaluru-based trust and its related entities were covered during the search, which "revealed that substantial amounts of trust funds amounting to Rs 80 lakh have been transferred, in the guise of donation, for non-trust purposes, to certain Kerala-based entities connected with Gulf countries, for the personal benefit of the trustees," stated the official release.

"Prima facie, it indicates violation of relevant provisions relating to registration of trusts under the Income Tax Act, 1961, for claim of exemption as well as Foreign Exchange Management Act (FEMA) provisions. Evidences with regard to collection of capitation fee of about Rs 10 crore in cash, and expenses of over Rs 4.8 crore incurred from the account of the Trust, for the trustees' personal benefit, over the last three years, have also been gathered," stated the Finance Ministry.

Caste-based corpns: HC rejects K'taka's objection

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court, framing three questions for its own consideration, on Tuesday rejected preliminary objections, at this stage, raised by the state government on the maintainability of a batch of public interest litigations, questioning the creation of caste-based corporations, including Veerashaiva-Lingayat Development Corporation, and spending large amounts of public money for the development of a few castes.

A division bench of Chief Justice Ritu Raj Awasthi and Justice Sachin Shankar Magadum passed the order, admitting a batch of PILs after hearing the arguments of the counsel of the petitioners and the Advocate General (AG) on the maintainability of the petitions.

"The question for consideration before the court is whether the creation of caste-based corporation and spending huge public money in any manner violates the concept of secularism as envisaged in the Constitution. The second question is whether the state government has legal sanction under the Constitution to create such corporations. The third is whether spending public money for the development of a few castes would violate Article 27 of the constitution," the court said, rejecting the preliminary objections on the maintainability of writ petitions.

Senior Advocate Ravivarma Kumar, representing a petitioner, submitted that the act of the state is totally arbitrary, discriminatory and based on political consideration.

AMAZON VERDICT HURTS COMPETITION BODY'S STATURE

The recent Competition Commission of India (CCI) verdict annulling the Amazon-Future Coupons Private Ltd (FCPL) deal approval it gave two years ago brings back memories of the UPA government's retrospective tax move in 2012. On both occasions, the government/regulator managed to shake the confidence of foreign investors.

The recent verdict, in which the country's anti-trust regulator suddenly realised it had not correctly read the 'intent' of Amazon to ultimately 'acquire interest over Future Retail Ltd (FRL)', raises serious questions over the working of the CCI. The verdict is significant not just because it exposes how easily the commission could be gamed, but also due to the direct and indirect involvement of big corporates in this case. If one goes by the argument of the order (to annul its earlier one), it reeks of failure of the regulator to see through the real 'intent' of the acquirer, which might harm competition in the market. The commission cannot redeem itself by blaming Amazon for 'suppression of facts' as it was its role to see through all the details of the deal before giving it a go-ahead. What is more worrying, though, is the perception that the regulator might have reversed its earlier order under pressure from a large industrial house with a keen interest in retail or from a traders' body with strong links to the party in power at the Centre.

A careful reading of the current and earlier verdicts shows that while the commission now feigns ignorance about Amazon's real intent of having strategic control over Future Retail, the same is not reflected in the wordings of its 2019 verdict approving the deal. The commission was clearly aware of the fact that "the wholesale and retail activities" of Amazon or its affiliates "have horizontal overlap(s) and/or vertical relationship(s) with business activities of FRL", and that the presence of FRL and Amazon affiliates in overall B2C retail "is not such as to raise any competition concern". Besides, Amazon had made it clear in its contract with FCPL that the Future Group could not sell stakes in Future Retail to a 'restricted' group. Whether it was regulatory oversight or insinuation of pressure from certain vested interests, the CCI order leaves a bitter taste.

ODISHA'S PADDY PROCUREMENT WOES

For the farming community of Odisha, this is the winter of their woes. Reports of farmers spending sleepless nights trying to sell paddy have been coming from across the western pockets of the state. Allegations of inadequate mandis, a short window for sale and rampaging middlemen have forced the hands of rice growers, who are resorting to distress sales. In a state where the government swears by farmers and their welfare, the agriculturists are the worst hit. The kharif paddy procurement started from November 1 and will continue till March 30. For procurement, there is a state-level panel and collectors chair the district committees. The issue of tokens and creation of mandis are prerequisites for the smooth beginning of the procurement process. But season after season, farmers have been made to go through the same ordeal despite a decentralised system in place. There are a number of actors in the procurement process but all the good intent is lost in the procedural maze and vested interests that hold the farmers to ransom. It is not just this kharif season's problem. The rabi procurement earlier this year too was embroiled in similar issues as thousands of farmers were left with unsold paddy.

This year, the farming community had to bear the brunt of nature as well. After drought-like conditions, unseasonal rains played havoc. Though cyclonic storm Jawad spared the state, the showers in its wake impacted crops across more than 5.78 lakh hectares in 12 districts. Farmers had to harvest early and the procurement delay has not helped. The entire process is a massive ₹12,000 crore business and so much money is bound to breed corruption. Farmers allege the hand of rice millers is behind the crisis. Middlemen from Jharkhand and Chhattisgarh too are exploiting the situation. Much of the blame must go to the district administrations that are entrusted with the smooth running of the process. The government has directed the engagement of women self-help groups to further decentralise procurement, but without adequate infrastructure and internal understanding of the mechanism at the grassroots, it might prove to be too little, too late.

Apply any yardstick to workers in Lanka's tea plantations—living conditions, longevity of life, education—they are at the bottom of the ladder

THE PLIGHT OF TAMILS OF INDIAN ORIGIN IN SRI LANKA

In a highly commendable move, the Rajapaksa brothers, who hold the reins of power in Sri Lanka, invited the UN Human Rights Council dealing with contemporary forms of slavery to visit Sri Lanka, study the living conditions of the most exploited sections of society like people working in garment firms in export promotion zones, tea plantation workers and migrants. Sri Lanka is the first country in South Asia to take this imaginative initiative. Will other countries in the region emulate the Sri Lankan example?

Tomoya Obokata, UN Special Rapporteur, visited Sri Lanka between November 26 and December 3 for an on-the-spot study of the problems and met a cross section of workers, government officials, trade union leaders and NGOs involved in the subject. The rapporteur presented the preliminary findings in a meeting held on November 26. The final report would be submitted to the UN in September 2022.

The workers in the tea plantations are of Indian Tamil origin. Apply any yardstick—per capita income, living conditions, longevity of life, educational attainments and status of women—they are at the bottom of the ladder. The UN Special Rapporteur has highlighted: "Contemporary forms of slavery have an ethnic dimension. In particular, Malaiyaha Tamils—who were brought from India to work in the plantation sector 200 years ago—continue to face multiple forms of discrimination based on their origin."

In 2017, Sri Lanka celebrated the 150th anniversary of its tea industry. The government and the planters organised a number of seminars and conferences to highlight the role of the tea industry in the economy, how to increase production in the sector and how to modernise it. The Institute of Social Development in Kandy was the only organisation that convened a seminar on those who produce the Two leaves and a Bud (novel written by Dr Mulk Raj Anand) that brings cheer early in the morning to millions across the world.

The contrasting lives of the planters and workers should be highlighted. Given below are two quotations that describe the contrast. The BBC, in 2005, telecast a documentary titled How the British Reinvented Slavery. The documentary portrays the lives of the planters as follows: "You can sit in your veranda, and sip the lemonade and be fanned by a servant and have your toenails cut at the same time by some coolie, and you can watch your labourers working, you could sleep with any woman you wanted, more or less everything was done for you from the time you wake up and the time you went to bed. People looked after you, people obeyed you, people are afraid of you, your single word as a plantation owner could deny life."

Vanachirahu, a young poet from Malaiyaham, gave expression to the innermost feelings of his people in times of communal troubles. In a poem titled Dawn, the poet writes: "Our nights are uncertain, dear, let us look at each other, before we go to bed. This may be our last meaningful moment. Finally press your lips on the cheeks of our children. Then let us think about our relatives for a moment. Lastly let us wipe our own tears."

The most important feature of the Malaiyaha Tamils is the sharp decline in their population. At the time of independence in 1948, they were more in number than Sri Lankan Tamils. Because of the two agreements signed in 1964 and 1974 between Colombo and New Delhi, and repatriation of a large number of people as Indian citizens, their number declined. Today, according to census statistics, they number only 5.5% of the population.

For the first few decades after independence, the major problem confronting the Indian Tamil population was the issue of statelessness. With a judicious mix of parliamentary and extra-parliamentary struggles, the community, under the leadership of Savumiamoorthy Thondaman, was able to extract citizenship rights from a recalcitrant Sinhalese-dominated government. All those born in Sri Lanka after October 1964 were granted citizenship, which also included the residue of the Sirimavo-Shastri pact, yet to be repatriated to India. With the introduction of the proportional system of representation under the 1978 Republican Constitution, the community was able to send more representatives to Parliament.

Human rights violations continue to take place. Though parties representing the Malaiyaha Tamils never subscribed to the demand for a separate state, they were subjected to vicious attacks in 1977, 1981 and 1983

The community is now engaged in a struggle for equality and dignity. The living conditions are improving but much more remains to be done before they can enjoy the status of perfect equality. First and foremost, human rights violations continue to take place. Though the political parties representing the Malaiyaha Tamils never subscribed to the demand for a separate state, they were subjected to vicious and savage attacks by lumpen sections of Sinhalese in 1977, 1981 and 1983. I happened to be in Hatton after the Bindunewa massacre in 2006. Indira, a young lady, confided that she was scared to move around Hatton because of insecurity. She contrasted that to her life with her brother in Perambur, Chennai, where she could go without any fear for late-night film shows. Second, the tea workers' daily wage is around 1,000 Sri Lankan rupees, which is not even sufficient to meet their daily needs. Many, therefore, absent themselves from the plantations and go to work in vegetable farms where they are able to get double the wages, in addition to breakfast and lunch. Finally, while every boy and girl goes to school, there are many dropouts. Very few enter the university level. I was associated with the University of Peradeniya as a SAARC Professor for International Relations in 2006. In the final-year BA class, in Tamil medium, there were 10 students, of whom eight were Muslim girls, a boy was from Batticaloa and a girl from the plantation area. In the same year, the number of teachers from the Indian Tamil community in the university was less than 10.

In his plan of action for three years, Sri Lankan High Commissioner Milinda Moragoda has highlighted that there should be more educational exchanges between the two countries. For instance, the Chennai Centre for Global Studies is very keen to step into the scene and assist the Tamil children, especially from the hill country, to come to India for secondary and college education, and is prepared to meet all their expenditures and also offer them scholarships. The community can come up only if they have good value-based education. Tamil Nadu can play a benign role in this direction.

The transformation from Thottakattan (barbarian from the plantations), a contemptuous term used by Jaffna Vellalars, to the noble appellation Malaiyaha Tamil is an illustration of the qualitative change that has taken place in the hill country. But much more remains to be done before they become equal citizens enjoying equality of opportunity.

Let me conclude with a poem written by M A Nuhman whom I had the privilege to know at the University of Peradeniya: "Where there is no equality, there is no peace, where there is no peace, there is no freedom, these are my last words, equality, peace and freedom."

ELECTORAL BONDS HAVE BEEN A MIXED BAG

STHANU R NAIR

Management consultant & alumnus of IIM Kozhikode

Electoral bonds have received tremendous attention and scrutiny as a unique poll funding instrument since their introduction in 2018. Critics have termed this a significant step backward in achieving the goal of transparency in political funding. How far is this criticism valid?

An electoral bond is a bearer banking instrument that works as follows: Any donor who is an Indian citizen or incorporated or established in the country can buy the bond from a designated branch of the SBI by submitting, among others, a copy of citizenship proof, KYC documents and a declaration on the source of funds. The bond can be bought in denominations of ₹1,000, ₹10,000, ₹1 lakh, ₹10 lakh and ₹1 crore. The payment can be made through cheque, demand draft or internet banking. To protect the donor's identity, the bond does not contain their name but a unique alphanumeric character.

Rationale for bonds: Indian political parties have traditionally been raising funds through donations from citizens and corporations. A donor could donate up to ₹20,000 in cash to any party, and the latter was not required to declare the source of cash donations received within this limit. Donations exceeding this had to be made through cheque or DD. In this case, the party had to declare the source in their contribution reports submitted to the ECI. A significant drawback of this funding system was the predominance of cash donations. To bypass disclosure to the ECI, even donations above ₹20,000 were accepted in cash by dividing them up into several smaller ones. Cash donations allow anonymity of the donor and the flow of unaccounted money into the political system. Around half of the political funding made under the traditional system was through cash donations below ₹20,000.

Therefore, the NDA government introduced an electoral bond instrument to discourage cash donations and bring transparency. Since its introduction, electoral bonds have become an essential source of financing for all major political parties. Between March 2018 and January 2021, electoral bonds worth ₹6,514.50 crore were redeemed by parties. While the ruling BJP has managed to receive the lion's share (60.17%) of political funding made through the bonds, over half of the total income of all national and regional parties too was contributed through this method. The bond scheme allows political donations to be channelised through the formal banking system without revealing the identity of the donors. This is expected to reduce the influence of cash donations and increase the traceability of election funding.

Partial success: Available evidence supports this expectation. Our analysis of voluntary contributions (for the BJP) and grant/donation/contribution (for the Congress) data reported in the Annual Audit Reports of the two parties submitted to the ECI during 2013–14 to 2019–20 provide a fascinating insight. For the BJP, the share of voluntary contributions received through the unknown source "other contributions" has declined from over 90% before the introduction of the bond instrument to 23.66% after that. This has been replaced with contributions through electoral bonds, which increased commensurately from 21.22% as of 31 March 2018 to a whopping 74.54% as of 31 March 2020. In the case of the Congress, the share of donations received from individuals has declined after the introduction of electoral bonds from 65.19% to 7.16% in the same period and the share of contributions through electoral bonds increased from 15.41% to 67.72%. Thus, for both the principal political parties, it seems that the quantum of political donations channelised through cash donations/non-identifiable sources has decreased substantially. Instead, today more funds are channelised through the formal banking system. This was not the case with the earlier system in which half of the political donations were not traceable as they were made in cash form. Viewed from this angle, the electoral bonds scheme is an improvement over the previous system.

Electoral bonds can be considered an improvement over the previous system as it has helped formalise that part of poll funding hitherto made through cash. But the absence of a provision to disclose donor details flies in the face of complete transparency

However, the donor anonymity feature of the bonds works against the complete fulfilment of the transparency goal. What the bond mechanism achieved was increased formalisation of political funding. But it has failed to track the donors. Proponents of the bond mechanism argue that if donor disclosure is made, then the system of financing through cash would return. Though this concern is valid, it doesn't make electoral bonds a clean instrument. In the absence of donor disclosure, the dominant view that the bonds scheme was designed to facilitate the flow of unaccounted or black money for political parties holds.

Recently the JMM voluntarily disclosed the name of a donor who contributed to the party using the bond instrument. It will help the cause of transparency if other parties follow suit. Alternatively, a cap on anonymous donations could be imposed. Following the Law Commission's recommendations, the ECI has proposed a cap of ₹20 crore or 20% of overall contributions from unknown sources.

To sum up, electoral bonds can be considered an improvement over the previous system as it has helped formalise that part of the election funding hitherto made through cash. But the absence of a provision to disclose donor details flies in the face of complete transparency.

Pawns of the powerful

This is with reference to Political killings: Kerala has every reason to worry (Dec 21). The rise of violence and revenge murders is worrying. While the ideological tug of war between political parties leads to incendiary speeches by leaders, grassroots cadre are victims of incitement and abetment of extreme steps like murder. They are like pawns in the political chess game. The end sufferers are the families of those killed and that of those who are charged with these murders.

Not enough experience

The report about Udhayanidhi Stalin's likely elevation to the Cabinet, which will lead to the sacking of one of the existing members, is a matter of concern. So far, the CM and his team have built goodwill among people, particularly in the way they handled the heavy rains. Udhayanidhi is yet to gain enough political and administrative experience needed to do justice to this role and making him a minister now would not be a good move. Stalin should let his son grow naturally in the party.

Retain existing govts?

This is with reference to Need to address predicted poll time Covid surge (Dec 20). We saw the second wave surge consequent to the election rallies in West Bengal, Assam, Kerala and TN this year. The Supreme Court had to intervene. Going by the predictions, Omicron is expected to spread more during February, when the rallies are likely to be at their peak. Maybe the Supreme Court can ask the government to extend the life of the existing Assemblies by about six months. This would be prevention, which is always better than trying to find a cure.

Don't pass bills in a hurry

As a voter, I don't see anything wrong in linking Aadhaar cards with voter IDs, but anything new being introduced requires thorough debate and discussion before being passed in both Houses of Parliament. Some MPs had doubts about the linking and it is the responsibility of the treasury benches to clarify them or fine-tune the Bill if need be.

Avoiding embarrassment

Congress MP Shashi Tharoor voicing out contradictory and dissenting views on issues like the SilverLine project indicate either a lack of internal discussion within the party or a conflict of interest. A discussion may have given Tharoor an opportunity to voice out his concerns with other leaders, who could have then taken it into consideration or prevailed upon him to respect the party line. The embarrassment could have been avoided had the leadership been more tactful.

Child marriage Bill sent to parliamentary panel

Scrutiny & discussion on the cards, Opposition MPs against motion

MANISH ANAND @ New Delhi

IN the face of an united Opposition flagging far-reaching consequences, including impact on personal laws, the Lok Sabha on Tuesday referred The Prevention of Child Marriage (Amendment) Bill, 2021 to the parliamentary standing committee for wider scrutiny and discussion with stake-holders.

The Opposition cautioned that the government not bulldoze legislations which can have larger ramifications, underlining that members of minority communities have reservations against the Bill.

Union Minister for Women and Child Welfare, Smriti Irani moved the Bill amid a din in the House, arguing that the legislative proposal proposes to ensure equality to men and women. The Bill proposes to increase the minimum age for marriage for women to 21 from 18.

Leader of Congress in Lok Sabha, Adhir Ranjan Chowdhury said he was surprised to see hurry on part of the government to push this Bill. "There have been no discussion with the stake-holders. Members of minority communities have concerns about the Bill. The hurriedness bares the ulterior motives of the government. It should be referred to the standing committee of the Parliament," he said.

Congress MP Gaurav Gogoi also opposed the Bill, saying that the Law Commission in its report had called for maintaining 18 years as the uniform age for marriage for women. "This Bill is going to affect all personal laws," added Gogoi.

> There have been no discussion with the stakeholders. Members of minority communities have concerns about the Bill. The hurriedness bares the government's ulterior motives.

> Adhir Ranjan Chowdhury, Congress

Trinamool Congress MP Saugata Roy also lent his voice against the Bill, saying that it was violative of Article 25 of the Constitution, while being an attack on the fundamental rights of citizens and the personal laws of various communities.

RSP MP NK Premchandran wondered if the Bill would be enforceable, particularly in rural parts. Going deeper into the legal scales, AIMIM MP Asaduddin Owaisi felt the Bill is retrogressive. "This is against the right to freedom under Article 19. An 18-year-old can choose a Prime Minister, can have a live-in relationship, can have sexual relations under the POCSO Act, but the government is denying them the right of marriage," he said.

PM scheduled to attend, Houses likely to be adjourned

New Delhi: Both Houses of Parliament are expected to be adjourned sine die on Wednesday, with the passage of the government's important legislations. There is a buzz that both Houses would be adjourned on Tuesday but was delayed by a day as PM Narendra Modi is scheduled to attend proceedings on Wednesday. Though the PM pulled up BJP MPs for skipping House proceedings at the party's parliamentary party meetings, what came as an embarrassment was when two Congress MPs flashed posters about the PM's attendance in Lok Sabha. Manickam Tagore and Vijay Vasanth held posters showing that the PM had attended proceedings only on the first day of the winter session on November 29 and has been absent since then. "The PMO operates from Parliament when the session is in progress and the PM was present in the compound on a majority of days but didn't bother to attend the House. He is expected to attend on Wednesday after which the House will be adjourned sine die as all important legislation listed for the session have been passed," said a source. ENS

No data on hate crime, says Centre

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

DATA on cases of mob lynching and hate crimes was compiled by the Centre in 2017, but the exercise was discontinued as the data was "unreliable", the government informed Lok Sabha on Tuesday.

Union Minister of State for Home Affairs, Nityanand Rai said this while responding to questions by MPs Gaurav Gogoi and Maneka Gandhi, who asked whether the National Criminal Records Bureau (NCRB) had collected data on the hate crimes, cow vigilantism and mob lynchings, but left it out of its 2017 report.

The junior home minister said, "In the year 2017, NCRB collected data on cases of mob lynching, hate crimes etc. It was observed that the data was unreliable as these crimes have not been defined. Hence, collection of data in this regard was discontinued."

In response to a separate question, the minister informed Parliament that complaints have been received against 18 FCRA-registered NGOs in Andhra Pradesh regarding their alleged indulgence in conversion to Christianity through "inducements, allurement and misrepresentation" since 2018. The minister said the Foreign Contribution Registration Act, 2010, provides a legal mechanism to deal with violation of its provisions. He said such mechanisms include audit of accounts of such NGOs, inspection of their accounts and records.

No central record of anti-national cases, no such word in statute: Govt

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE word 'anti-national' finds no mention in the Constitution. However, it was once inserted in the Constitution during Emergency in 1976 and later removed, Union Minister of State for Home Nityanand Rai informed Lok Sabha on Tuesday.

Rai was responding to a question by Hyderabad MP Asaduddin Owaisi, who asked whether the government had defined the meaning of 'anti-national' under any legislation or 11 rules or any other legal enactment enforced in the country.

Owaisi also asked whether the Supreme Court had prescribed any guidelines to deal with crimes relating to 'anti-national' activity.

In a written reply, the Deputy Home Minister said: "The word 'anti-national' has not been defined in statutes. However, there are criminal legislations and various judicial pronouncements to sternly deal with unlawful and subversive activities which are detrimental to the unity and integrity of the country."

In his response, the minister of state for home said it was relevant to mention that the Constitution (42nd Amendment) Act, 1976 inserted in the Constitution Article 31D (during Emergency) which defined 'anti-national activity' and this Article 31D was subsequently, omitted by the Constitution (43rd Amendment) Act, 1977.

Owaisi also sought details of the number of people arrested for indulging in 'anti national' activities in the last three years. Rai said the statistics about the number of people arrested for indulging in anti-national activities was not maintained centrally. He said the responsibility of maintaining law and order rested primarily with the respective state government.

"The responsibility of maintaining law and order, including investigation, registration and prosecution rests primarily with the respective state governments," the minister said.

Government blocks 'anti-India' YouTube channels & websites

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

AFTER receiving inputs from intelligence agencies, the Ministry of Information and Broadcasting on Tuesday ordered blocking of 20 YouTube channels and two websites.

The ministry has learnt that these channels and websites are involved in spreading anti-India propaganda through Pakistan-backed fake news. Saying that their content is in violation of IT rules, the ministry blocked them through two separate orders, one for the YouTube channels and another for the websites. The department of telecom was asked to ensure blocking of these channels and websites through the service providers.

Anurag Thakur, Union minister for I&B, said 15 of these channels were engaged in promoting anti-India propaganda in association with some Pakistan-based groups, while the other five were more or less doing the same by spreading factually incorrect news.

"We have taken action against cross-border activities aimed at creating and spreading unrest and fear in India. The YouTube channels and portals that have been blocked were violating domestic laws of IT. Strong action has been taken against them," he said.

Thakur alleged that these YouTube channels and websites belonged to a coordinated disinformation network operating from Pakistan by way of fanning fake news on sensitive national subjects.

An official statement issued by the ministry elaborated that the channels and websites were posting divisive content in a coordinated manner on issues like Kashmir, India army, minority communities, Ram temple and the martyrdom of CDS Bipin Rawat. The statement said anti-India campaign has the involvement of Naya Pakistan Group operating from Pakistan with a network of channels and websites.

The YouTube channels ordered to be blocked have a huge base of subscribers of over 35 lakh and the videos posted had 55 crore views. Some of the channels associated with NPG were operated by anchors of Pakistani news channels.

The government also fears that these YouTube channels and websites would be used to post content to undermine the democratic process of the upcoming Assembly elections in five states, including Uttar Pradesh and Punjab.

Rahul, BJP caught in war of words over lynching

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

FORMER Congress chief Rahul Gandhi and BJP were engaged in a war of words over recent lynching incidents in Punjab. The former said lynching was never heard before the BJP government came to power in 2014. The BJP retorted saying that former PM Rajiv Gandhi was the 'father of lynching', referring to the 1984 aniti-Sikh riots in Delhi.

"Before 2014, the word 'lynching' was practically unheard of. #ThankYouModiJi," Rahul posted on Twitter. It came days after two incidents of lynching in Punjab over alleged desecrations at Gurdwaras. The BJP was quick to say that rather than questioning the Congress ruled government in the state, Rahul was attacking the Central government.

"Meet Rajiv Gandhi, father of mob lynching, justifying blood curdling genocide of Sikhs. Congress took to streets, raised slogans like khoon ka badla khoon se lenge, raped women, wrapped burning tyres around necks of Sikh men while dogs gorged on charred bodies dumped in drains," tweeted BJP's leader Amit Malviya.

BJP spokesperson and former Congress leader Tom Vadakkan said: "The dynast should remember 1984 and the anti-Sikh riots — that's what set a precedent to the act of lynching."

Gupkar Alliance leaders to protest 'divisive' delimitation proposal

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

CALLING the Delimitation Commission's proposal to allot six additional seats to Jammu and only one to Kashmir 'divisive and unacceptable', the People's Alliance for the Gupkar Declaration on Tuesday said leaders of the six parties will hold a peaceful protest against these recommendations in Srinagar on January 1.

"The recommendations are unacceptable. Highly disappointing and divisive, it will further disempower the people of Kashmir. It is not in the interest of the people of J&K and not in national interest. It is bound to widen gaps between regions and communities," Gupkar Alliance spokesman and CPI(M) leader Mohammad Yousuf Tarigami told reporters after a meeting of the alliance leaders in Jammu.

The meeting chaired by NC president Farooq Abdullah and also attended by PDP chief Mehbooba Mufti took place a day after the Delimitation Commission, during its meeting with five associate members of J&K, proposed 43 seats for Jammu and 47 for Kashmir in the 90-member J&K Assembly.

Tarigami said the constitutionality of the commission under the J&K Reorganisation Act had been challenged in the Supreme Court. "Population should have been the criteria of delimitation. But the census was ignored. We want that delimitation in J&K should happen when it is done in the whole country," he said.

TMC reinventing itself to form Opposition front, says Varma

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR
@ New Delhi

TRINAMOOL Congress believes the leadership of Indian National Congress is not good enough to take on the BJP. Looking ahead to the 2024 Lok Sabha polls, the party headed by Mamata Banerjee is trying to emerge as a national alternative to the grand old party.

Recently appointed national vice-president of TMC, former diplomat Pavan K Varma said, "The current Congress leadership is not capable of taking on BJP in the next elections. So TMC is reinventing itself as the real Congress to challenge BJP with a bunch of like-minded allies on a pan-India level."

Speaking to this newspaper, Varma claimed that West Bengal CM Mamata has fire in her 'principled politics' to present a formidable and effective opposition ahead of the 2024 elections. He said the emergence of a new, TMC-initiated opposition is a strong possibility and that a number of opposition parties are in favour of one common platform.

"From east to west and north to south, from across the country, the TMC's efforts to bring in a new and vibrant objective are gaining momentum. The result is almost certain to come out on a positive note in the larger interest of a nation which is now clamouring for changes," Varma said.

Claiming that a number of leaders from Congress are feeling 'disgruntled' with the current leadership, Varma said leaders keen on presenting a formidable opposition also support TMC's efforts.

He said the TMC is systematically and strategically making a nationwide outreach to emerge as a national party which cares for the causes of all and sundry in almost every state, including in south India. "The nation wants changes amid skyrocketing prices and all ills that are eating into the vitality of democracy under the autocracy of BJP."

Double engine govts boosted Nari Shakti: PM

Modi juxtaposes Yogi govt's records with 'mafia rule' in UP under Samajwadi Party

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

LAUDING the Yogi Adityanath government's initiatives like 'Mission Shakti', PM Narendra Modi reiterated the significance of a "double engine government" (BJP at the Centre and in the state) in bringing about a positive change in the life of women in UP.

Ahead of Assembly polls, the PM is leaving nothing to chance in convincing women that the BJP is committed to ensure equal rights to them.

Addressing over 2.72 lakh women workers and members of SHGs from 75 districts who converged in Prayagraj on Tuesday, Modi said, "When we took up the task of taking the country forward, we resolved to ensure uplifting the women and brought schemes to help them become self-reliant in every sphere of life."

Pitching in for increasing the marriage age of women to 21 years from 18 in the proposed bill that has been referred to a parliamentary panel, the PM said many people were not liking the move. "We are trying to make this happen as women want equal rights to pursue their studies, to get equal opportunities for making their career and grow in life, but some are troubled by this decision," he said.

Attacking the previous government in UP, the PM said there was "no safety, rights, honour, business and possibilities" for women until the Yogi government demolished the 'mafia raj'. He said over 700 fast track courts were established across India for speedy justice to rape victims, and also mentioned the law against triple talaq. He also claimed that the Centre's Beti Bachao, Beti Padhao campaign had gone a long way in checking the practice of female foeticide. "In UP, where sex ratio used to be 1000: 920, it is now 1000:1020," he added.

Modi said his government has tried to accord priority to resolving issues plaguing the women for ages. "For years, women had been denied property rights. So we decided to register the house given under PM Awas Yojana in the name of female members of the family," he said, adding that 25 lakh of the 30 lakh beneficiaries of the scheme in UP were women.

Twitter spat: Cong, SP trade punches over Mulayam's photo with Bhagwat

LUCKNOW: A widely shared picture of Samajwadi Party patriarch Mulayam Singh Yadav with Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh chief Mohan Bhagwat in the same frame has ruffled many feathers in the political corridors of Uttar Pradesh.

The photograph from the wedding reception of Vice President Venkaiah Naidu's granddaughter has led to the twitter war between the Congress and the SP on Tuesday.

It all started by the social media handlers of the Congress's UP unit. Sharing the image, the Congress wrote in Hindi that the 'S' of the new SP stands for 'Sanghvad'. Soon after, the UP BJP also pitched in and shared the similar image wrote a "picture speaks a lot".

Breaking his silence on the meet, SP chief Akhilesh Yadav accepted that 'Netaji' (Mulayam) had met Bhagwat at a function in Delhi. He slammed Congress for misconstruing the discussion. "Congress is trying to present the picture in a bizarre way. What do they know about the talks at the sofa? Netaji (Mulayam) may have said 'Babaji is going from UP' (to Bhagwat)," said Akhilesh.

However, the UP Congress remarked that thankfully SP had accepted meeting Bhagwat which the Congress wanted to know ahead of polls.

Hours later, the SP hit back sharing another picture of Mulayam exchanging pleasantries with NCP chief Sharad Pawar and his daughter, saying the Congress forgotten the political etiquette. ENS

Rawat quietly eyeing chief minister post in Uttarakhand

VINEET UPADHYAY @ Dehradun

DESPITE declaring that the elections in Uttarakhand will be fought under collective leadership, former Chief Minister and senior Congress leader Harish Rawat is leaving no stone unturned to put his name forward as the candidate.

Central leaders including Rahul Gandhi and Devendra Yadav have said that the elections will be contested collectively riding on anti-incumbency against the BJP government.

"The party doesn't want to stoke factionalism. Though no one says this, but everyone knows there is one camp of Harish Rawat and another of Pritam Singh, the Leader of Opposition," said a leader.

However, Rawat through social media posts and statements have been asserting himself as the CM candidate, said party insiders. Political analysts say the central leadership cannot ignore Rawat.

Jai Singh Rawat, political commentator, said, "Look at the statements of Harish Rawat and his style of campaigning. He is clearly promoting himself. He took all the positions of importance such as chairman of election committee while the position of state president went to his loyalist."

All at sea in Goa: BJP mired in scams, no end to exodus in Congress

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

BOTH the ruling BJP and the opposition Congress are facing a slew of serious issues ahead of the Assembly polls in Goa. The BJP is mired in a government job scam and a case of sexual exploitation even as the Congress faces a major exodus of incumbent MLAs.

The main opposition party got a big jolt on Monday when its working state president and three-time MLA Alexio Reginaldo Lourenco left the Congress despite his assurances to Rahul Gandhi. In fact, his name had been announced as part of the first list of candidates.

The Congress, which was the single largest party with 17 MLAs in the 40-member Assembly in 2017, is now left with only two MLAs, including the Leader of Opposition. Neither the central nor the state leadership has been able to arrest the exodus.

The BJP too is facing a tough time in the state. While urban and social welfare minister Milind Naik was forced to resign after PCC chief Girish Chodankar accused him of involvement in the sexual exploitation of a woman, the BJP's own MLAs have accused another minister, Deepak Pauskar, of corruption in recruitment for the public works department.

On the exodus of MLAs from the Congress, party sources said those who left were not sure if their party would return to power. Moreover, the sources added, these legislators had sought adequate funds for the poll campaign, but the leadership was unsure about granting the funds. "Therefore, they are leaving ahead of the polls and joining either the BJP or the TMC, which are offering them sufficient funds," said a source.

Digambar Kamat, Leader of Opposition

Former Goa CM and Leader of Opposition Digambar Kamat, however, underplayed the significance of the exodus. "Our functionaries have the strength and mettle to defeat the opportunists. The Congress is here to form the government and I am committed to lead the party to a thumping majority," he said.

We forced PM to bow before women: Priyanka

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Lucknow

REACTING sharply to the PM's 'naari shakti' push, Congress general secretary Priyanka Gandhi Vadra claimed that it was due to her party's initiatives that Modi was trying to lure the women voters just ahead of polls.

"Where were the BJP government for the last five years, why didn't they make these announcements for the women all this long. They have come at the time of elections," she tweeted.

Priyanka also claimed that she had she had asked the UP women to acknowledge their power. "UP women please see. Today, in front of your power, PM Modi has bowed. But only a leaf had fluttered and a storm is yet to come. Unity of sisters will bring a revolution."

She claimed that she had given the slogan 'Ladki Hoon, Lad Sakti Hoon' – which had compelled the PM to focus on women empowerment. "Women have woken up. This is the victory of the women of Uttar Pradesh. I am very happy," she said.

Meanwhile, the Congress General secretary also charged the dispensation with being behind the alleged hacking of the Instagram account of her children. Priyanka was alluding to the phone-tapping allegations made by SP chief Akhilesh Yadav against the Yogi Adityanath government.

Akhilesh Yadav on Sunday had accused Uttar Pradesh Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath of 'phone-tapping'.

No justification for Punjab lynching: Capt

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

DAYS after two men were killed over sacrilege cases in Punjab, former Chief Minister Amarinder Singh said on Tuesday that there could be no justification for mob lynching.

He said national security and the welfare of Punjab topped his agenda.

Addressing a public meeting after inducting senior Congress leader Jagdish Kumar Jagga into the party at Rajpura, Amarinder said his party, the Punjab Lok Congress, and the BJP were working in close coordination to ensure success in the Assembly polls.

He also condemned the killing of the two accused in the sacrilege cases – one inside the Golden Temple and another at Kapurthala, saying the accused should have been handed over to the police. "No civilized society can and should approve of such killings," he said.

On the issue of people getting angry over "denial of justice" in the Behbal Kalan sacrilege case in 2015, he said his government had pursued the case from day one. He said the state had to fight a long legal battle to get the inquiry back from the CBI. Then the investigation began and 22 people, including police personnel and civilians, were arrested. They are out on bail now.

Amarinder thanked the BJP leadership for their support for Punjab. He said his top-most priority was national security and good governance. He emphasized the need for close coordination between the police and central security agencies.

On ticket distribution, Amarinder said both sides will work together to finalise the winning candidates.

Landslide win for TMC in Kolkata civic polls, Left Front second in vote share

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

THE Trinamool Congress on Tuesday registered a landslide victory in the Kolkata municipal elections, bagging 134 out of 144 wards with a vote share of 72 per cent.

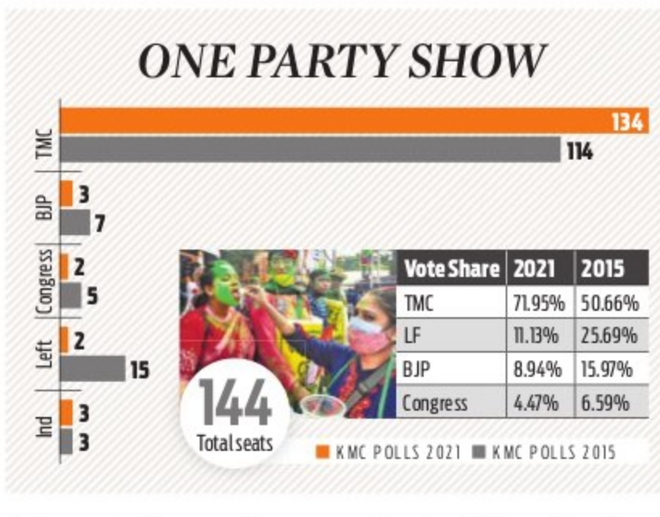
The BJP, which had emerged as the main opposition in the Assembly election, won three seats, while the Left Front and Congress won two each. Though the LF failed to retain the second position it had secured in 2015, the party's vote share (12 per cent) was higher than the BJP's (9 per cent). The LF was runner-up in 65 seats, while the BJP finished second in 47.

The Congress, which got 4 per cent of the votes, was ahead of the LF and the BJP in 16 seats. Independent candidates won three seats.

In 2015, the TMC got 114 seats, while the LF won 15, the BJP seven and the Congress five. Independent and other candidates won in three wards.

Calling her party's triumph a "victory of the people", TMC supremo Mamata Banerjee said, "Several national parties fought against us, but they were all defeated. This victory will show the way in national politics."

Leader of Opposition Suvendu Adhikari of the BJP criticised the role of the state election commission. Congress leader Adhir Ranjan Chowdhury said his party would have won in at least 12 wards had the election been free and fair.



In Gujarat, all eyes on gram panchayat polls

Ahmedabad: Counting of votes is underway for the Gujarat Gram Panchayat elections, seen as a major test for political parties ahead of Assembly elections due in December next year. Results have been declared for half of the seats so far. More than 77 per cent voter turnout was recorded across Gujarat during polling for 8,686 Gram Panchayats on Sunday, the state election commission said. A total of 27,200 candidates are in the fray for sarpanch posts and 1,19,998 for panchayat members. While 1,165 panchayats and 9,613 wards were declared "totally uncontested", with representatives elected unopposed, 473 sarpanchs have been elected where only one candidate was left after withdrawal of nominations. Though Gram Panchayat elections are fought by candidates in their personal capacity, the polls are seen as indicative of larger political trends in the state. In the 2017 Assembly polls, the urban voter had preferred the saffron party, while the rural electorate largely sided with the Congress. ENS

Auto part industry grows 65% in Apr-Sept

Hits turnover of ₹1.96 lakh cr, even higher than ₹1.79 lakh cr during pre-Covid period of Apr-Sept 2019, says ACMA

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

OVER a very low base, India's auto component industry registered a growth of 65% year-on-year in its turnover to ₹1.96 lakh crore ($26.6 billion) during the Apr-Sept 2021 period (HIFY22), data released by industry body Automotive Component Manufacturers Association of India (ACMA) showed.

During the same period of previous fiscal, the industry was severely affected by the first wave of Covid-19 pandemic and a nationwide lockdown.

When compared with the pre-pandemic era, the industry still managed to register a growth as industry turnover was reported at ₹1.79 lakh crore ($26.2 bn) for the period Apr-Sept 2019. This was a negative growth of 10.1% over the first half of the FY2019.

Sunjay Kapur, President, ACMA, said, "Despite resurgence of demand for vehicles, supply-side issues of availability of semiconductors, increasing input costs, rising logistics costs and availability of containers, among others, continue to hamper recovery in the automotive sector. The auto component industry, in this backdrop, displayed remarkable resilience."

He added that increased value-addition to meet regulatory compliance, fast recovery in external markets and traction in the domestic aftermarket contributed to the growth of the sector in first-half of FY 22.

PART-WISE

- Exports of auto components grow by 76% to ₹68,746 cr from ₹39,003 cr in HIFY21
- China remains India's biggest importer, accounting for 27% of total imports
- Europe accounts for 31% of exports while North America and Asia 32% and 25%, respectively
- Imports of auto components grow by 71% from ₹37,710 cr in HIFY21 to ₹64,310 cr in HIFY22

On the on-going global semiconductor shortage and continuous rise in commodity prices, ACMA said the industry does not see any quick resolution. According to two senior executives at leading car companies, normalisation in supply of semi-conductors may take anywhere between 6-12 months and its shortage will impact production and sales of passenger vehicles. Ratings agency ICRA in a recent note estimated production loss of 500,000 units for PV makers, translating into a financial loss of ₹1,500-2,000 crore.

In H1FY22, exports of auto components grew by 76% to ₹68,746 crore ($9.3 billion) from ₹39,003 crore ($5.2 billion) in H1FY21. Europe accounts for 31% of exports while North America and Asia account for 32% and 25%, respectively.

Imports of auto components grew by 71% from ₹37,710 crore ($5.0 bn) in H1FY21 to ₹64,310 crore ($8.7 bn) in H1FY22. China remained India's biggest importer, accounting for 27% of total imports. Asia (including China) accounted for 63% of imports followed by Europe and North America, with 29% and 7% respectively.

The aftermarket in H1 of 2021-22 also witnessed a growth of 25% y-o-y to ₹38,895 crore ($5.3 bn) and component sales to original equipment manufacturers during the period in the domestic market grew by 76% to ₹1.53 lakh crore.

INDONESIA

NEW PAYMENT SYSTEM TO CUT MONEY TRANSFER COSTS

Indonesia's central bank on Tuesday launched a new retail payment system that its governor said will slash the cost of money transfers and support the country's booming digital economy. The Covid-19 pandemic has accelerated growth in Indonesia's digital finance, with digital banking transactions rising 47% on a yearly basis in November to reach 3,877 trillion rupiah ($269.52 billion) and e-money transactions up 62% to 31.3 trillion rupiah, according to Bank Indonesia's (BI) data. The newly launched "BI-Fast" system will allow real-time, secure money transfers of up to 250 million rupiah, at a maximum cost of 2,500 rupiah (17 US cents) per transaction for customers, BI Governor Perry Warjiyo said. This compares with the cost of the current interbank money transfer for customers using the national payment gateway of 6,500 rupiah per transaction. Indonesia's internet economy is expected to be worth $146 bn by 2025, representing 20% CAGR, a report by Alphabet's Google, Singapore state investor Temasek Holdings and global consultants Bain & Company said.

CHINA

REGULATORY CRACKDOWNS LIKELY TO BE EXTENDED

After China's year of unprecedented crackdowns, roiling markets and halting deals, bankers and lawyers expect tighter scrutiny to continue in 2022 but say clearer rules will give investors some certainty about the regulatory environment. Over the past year, Beijing has clamped down on antitrust violations, banned private tuition groups, reined in property developers' debt binge, and made some offshore listings close to impossible. Analysts expect those actions to extend into the new year, with particular focus on data protection and deals that present national security risks while the authorities also seek to step up control on private enterprise. China in November elevated the status of the antitrust unit of the state administration for market regulation to the deputy-ministerial level, a bureaucratic promotion that gives it more access to resources for probing deals. In a sign of new measures to come, Reuters reported last week that regulators are planning to ban online brokerages from offering offshore trading to mainland clients due to concerns about data security and capital outflows.

JAPAN

GOVT WEIGHS RAISING GROWTH FORECAST: YOMIURI

Japan is considering raising its forecast for fiscal 2022 real GDP growth to 3.0% or more after taking into account the impact of a record $317 billion extra budget, the Yomiuri newspaper reported. The projection would be an upgrade from a forecast for 2.2% real GDP growth for the fiscal year starting in April 2022 released at a mid-year review in July. The cabinet was set to approve the new forecast, Yomiuri said. The update comes after parliament on Monday approved the 36 trillion yen ($316.73 billion) extra budget for the current fiscal year. Japan has lagged other advanced nations in overcoming a coronavirus pandemic-induced slump, forcing policymakers to maintain massive fiscal and monetary support even as crisis mode policies are dialled back elsewhere. The Bank of Japan kept its ultra-loose monetary easing unchanged in its December rate review last week, except for partially winding down emergency pandemic funding.

India's crude oil output fails to achieve target

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

INDIA'S crude oil production continued to decline in November as the country produced 2431.44 TMT, which is 6.89% lower than target for the month and 2.22% lower than the production of November 2020, as per the official data released by the ministry of petroleum and natural gas on Tuesday. The cumulative crude oil production during April to November 2021 is 19,868.42 TMT, which is 4.38% and 2.74% lower than target for the period and production during corresponding period of last year respectively.

The reason for decline in production, the government said, was lower output from state-owned firms like Oil and Natural Gas Corporation, Oil India Limited and others.

As per the government data, Oil and Natural Gas Corporation (ONGC) produced 3% less crude oil at 1.6 million tonnes in November while Oil India Ltd (OIL) produced 2,41,420 tonnes of crude oil in November, down from 2,43,200 tonnes a year back and 2,52,990 tonnes in October.

The reason for low output, ONGC said, was less than anticipated production from Cluster-8 fields due to delay in inputs as installation of wellhead platforms got delayed due to Covid impact.

However, according to the monthly production report, there was a 23.09% increase in gas production in November. The production of natural gas during November 2021 was 2869.47 MMSCM, which is 23.09% higher than the production of November 2020 but 12.8% lower than the monthly target.

Godrej eyes 30% revenue from hygiene biz by '23

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

CONSUMER goods major Godrej Appliances on Tuesday said it is eyeing 30% revenue from its health and hygiene solutions by 2022-23.

Since last year, Godrej has introduced multiple products with cutting edge technologies for germ protection, Kamal Nandi, Business Head and Executive Vice-President - Godrej Appliances, said in a virtual conference. "Encouraged by the response on these offerings and our continuous consumer interactions which reveal a clear need for food disinfection inside refrigerators, we launched the nano disinfection technology in our refrigerators. With this technology, we aim to strengthen our market position and increase our health-oriented solutions to 30% of our overall portfolio by next year," Nandi said.

To cater to the increasing demand in the category, the brand has introduced advanced nano disinfection technology to its range of frost-free refrigerators, for which it has also filed a patent. According to the company, the technology uses a special anti-germ nano coating in the air flow duct of the refrigerator.

"The air passing through this duct gets disinfected and as it circulates, it controls microbial activity in the enclosed refrigerator compartment, further disinfecting food surfaces in the refrigerator. This technology has been tested to deliver 100% surface sterilisation at the duct and an average of 95%+ food surface disinfection against germs," it said.

COAL SHORTAGE

'Normalise coal supply to captive plants'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

A captive power producers' association on Tuesday urged the government for 100% normalisation of coal supply to captive power producers or it will bring the industry to a grinding halt.

The Indian Captive Power Producers Association said halting their operation will have a severe impact on the SMEs in the downstream sector, resulting in increased prices of finished products with a burden on end consumers.

"The government should start normalising the supplies because we are getting some feeler that first they want to build up very high some 30 days inventory by March and after that they will start supplying to CPPs and industries," said Rajiv Agarwal, Secretary General, ICPPA in a press conference.

The association said the government's guideline specifies the allocation of coal in proportion of 75% (power) and 25% (non-power), despite which the non-regulated sector is getting coal that is less than 20%.

Lloyd hangs up microphone

Former England cricketer and coach David 'Bumble' Lloyd on Tuesday announced that he will be leaving his role as a commentator with Sky Sports after a stint spanning over two decades. The 74-year-old Lloyd has been a prominent voice for Sky Sports' cricket coverage since joining the team in 1999.

Post Worlds, Sri believes he Kan

Shuttler hopes to work on negatives with Gopichand as he targets big 2022

SUNNY BASKI @ Hyderabad

WHEN players pass the eye test, you know they are in a good space, irrespective of past results and performances. Using the eye test as a metric, Kidambi Srikanth passed it with flying colours at the Worlds in Huelva. His game revolves around bossing the exchanges at the net, bringing the opponent forward with cute drop shots apart from his main weapon: the jump smash.

He used all of them to reach the final last week, becoming the first Indian man to do so in the process. Yet, during a press conference after landing in India, he revealed that there were still many 'negatives' during the week. "I will talk to Pullela Gopichand and figure out what went wrong (in the final)," he said. "Even though I went to the final (he lost to Singapore's Loh Kean Yew), there will be a lot of negatives that I have to work on to become a much better player."

That process, the 28-year-old, knows will have to begin soon if he is to use this result as a platform to set himself up for a big 2022 (apart from the regular World Tour 1000s and Worlds, the year has the Commonwealth and the Asian Games). While he didn't name-check any of these tournaments, he was already thinking of the 'big events'. "I could see improvements in my game match by match and hope to peak at the correct time as big events are lined up next year," he said.

Kidambi Srikanth, who won the silver medal at the BWF World Championships, at the Pullela Gopichand Academy in Hyderabad on Tuesday | S SENBAGAPANDIYAN

There was a time when Srikanth, who is No 3 in the 'Race to Guangzhou', couldn't string wins on a consistent basis. To be fair, this was when he had a fitness concerns, he's now past that stage. "The injury phase is over and right now I am happy as my fitness levels are good," he said. As far as the tournament was concerned, he didn't set any goals, he was happy to take every match as it came before thinking about the next round. "I know that if I can really play well, I can beat anyone. In this tournament, it was more about thinking of a particular match and giving my best to go for another round. I always focus on the particular round to win at any cost and don't think about the remaining matches."

In 2022, he may have to cherry pick his tournaments to peak at the right time. More importantly, tournaments originally slotted will have to go on at the right time without being affected due to Covid-19. Srikanth said it would be tough if there is another break. "The gap between the tournaments due to Covid-19 is a disadvantage for me because I have the rhythm when consistently playing the games. If there is a break suddenly for 6 or 8 months between the tournaments, it will be tough even if you train hard. I am hopeful that tournaments will continue to take place without any gap," Srikanth pointed out.

For the time being, he will be taking a well-deserved rest before starting his season in New Delhi in January.

PACE OF PROTEAS

With Andre Nortje getting ruled out of the Test series against India due to injury, South Africa will be looking to put up a perfect bowling attack come boxing day. A look at the options Dean Elgar has to pick from..

DUANNE OLIVER

Oliver last played Test cricket in February 2019 before taking up Kolpak deal and moving to England. The pacer from Bloemfontein, with 48 Test wickets at 19.25, made himself available for selection last month and could play a vital role for South Africa in his comeback series.

LUNGI NGIDI

Ngidi made a match-winning Test debut in the 2018 series against India, but has blown hot and cold off late. However, in Nortje's absence, the 25-year-old could start in the first Test at Centurion.

WIAAN MULDER

Though the all-rounder hasn't established himself with the bat yet, Mulder was a handy fourth pacer for Elgar in West Indies and is likely to play the supporting role to Rabada & Co. in Centurion.

KAGISO RABADA

The 26-year-old is the most consistent performer for the hosts and would be the second name on the team sheet after the skipper. Rabada was also the joint-leading wicket-taker in the 2-1 series win the last time India toured the rainbow nation.

GLENTON STUURMAN

Stuurman is called back to the South Africa squad after his impressive returns in the A-team series against India. The right-arm pacer took 7 wickets in two matches, including a four-for.

BEURAN HENDRICKS

Hendricks is the only left-arm pacer in the squad apart from the uncapped all-rounder Marco Jansen. Despite not taking any wickets in the A-team series, the 31-year-old has been roped into the squad for his first-class experience. Not a sure starter by any means.

56 South African pacers took 56 of the 60 Indian wickets during the three-match Test series in 2018.

High on two quarters leave India out of gas

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Chennai

THE men's hockey team, for want of a better phrase, treated the ball like how anti-vaxxers treat the vaccine: not having it. The first 30 minutes of their semifinal against Japan at the Asian Champions Trophy on Tuesday was some of the worst hockey this group of players have ever played. They struggled to complete even sideways passes, there was zero cohesion and the defense parted like the Red Sea whenever Japan came at them.

After the match, skipper Manpreet Singh said they started the match 'slowly and lazy'. That was rather evident. Before the first two minutes was up, Japan, the 2018 Asian Games champions, had five penalty corners, one penalty stroke and two goals. At the other end, India, who had beaten the same opposition 6-0 48 hours ago, were left scratching their heads. Japan, though, were just getting started.

While Japan, who have had some money come into their hockey programme because of the Olympics, aren't technically at the same level as the elite, they more than make up for that in other areas: pace and counter. In Kenta Tanaka, one of the paciest players in the world today, they have one of the best forwards in Asia. Takuma Niwa is a glorious throwback to another era when players would just dribble out of any traffic and run. Both those players were on song and the Indian defence were frequently facing a tsunami. They were helped in their cause by a poor performance by the Indians. The turnover rate was shocking — it looked like basketball and not hockey — and a failure to string chances hurt them. The only time they gained a degree of sustained control was with 10 minutes to go and Japan protecting a four-goal lead. India did manage to find two goals but the final scoreline of 5-3 did not flatter Seren Tanaka & Co. one bit.

One goal, Japan's fifth, summed up the first 30 minutes to a T. India had the ball but dawdled on it. Japan were off in a flash with Niwa weaving his way in and out of Indian sticks like they were traffic cones. Five seconds later, Ryoma Ooka was celebrating after bundling home from close range. That India couldn't engineer a single penalty corner for two quarters was a fair reflection of how little they had the ball in Japan's third. When they finally got it for Harmanpreet to score with seven minutes left on the clock, it was already too little, too late. Hardik Singh scored another set-piece goal but Japan were already celebrating.

Pro Kabaddi League returns after a year

ASHIM SUNAM @ Bengaluru

AFTER seven successive seasons of the Pro Kabaddi League (PKL), the competition did not take place last year due to the Covid-19 situation in the country. But the organisers were eager to make it happen this season despite the pandemic still being prevalent. It was always going to be a huge challenge and the eighth edition, starting on Wednesday in Bengaluru, is unique on several fronts.

First up, it is not going to be played in a stadium. The league will be hosted at Sheraton Grand Bengaluru Whitefield Hotel & Convention Centre, but they have no left no stone unturned. There are three mats at the venue with one of them being used solely for matches while the others will be used for practice sessions. With 12 teams in the competition, they have to follow a tight schedule if they are to practice at the venue.

It is a first for a league of such stature to be played in a hotel, which also doubles up as a residence for all the 12 teams. The players and officials will have to adhere to the strict protocols in place inside the bio bubble, where they are going to be regularly tested. What makes it even more difficult is the players will have to stay at the hotel for approximately 60 days. There are dedicated floors for players and officials alike at the hotels and teams have been putting efforts into recreational activities.

In the last 18 months or so, a number of competitions and franchise-based leagues took place in different parts of the world, including India. So, the PKL have taken a leaf from them and are confident of pulling off a unique edition in Bengaluru.

"We have learned from all the leagues, who kept themselves going during the pandemic. I think it is a great effort and there are very relevant examples for us to follow and best practices too," said Anupam Goswami, CEO, Mashal Sports and League Commissioner, PKL. "It is a team contact sport so there is a comprehensive bubble for all teams and the competition to be at a single location. It is a very stringent, stern disciplinary process and all the 12 teams have adapted to it. We have seen strong participation and compliance by teams."

The season kicks off with three matches on the opening day as Bengaluru Bulls take on U Mumba in the first match on Wednesday.

K'taka knocked out of Vijay Hazare Trophy

ASHIM SUNAM @ Bengaluru

IT would be fair to say Tamil Nadu have been a thorn in Karnataka's flesh this domestic season. It started with the Syed Mushtaq Ali Trophy final, where TN emerged victorious, followed by a thumping win in the group stages of the Vijay Hazare Trophy. On Tuesday, Karnataka failed once again as they lost by 151 runs in the 50-over competition in Jaipur, resulting in their exit. Meanwhile, Vijay Shankar and his men reached the semifinals.

Things never went according to plan for Karnataka at the KL Saini Stadium as they lost two of their key players — Ravikumar Samarth and Krishnappa Gowtham — to injuries ahead of the crucial contest. It was a big setback but credit should go to Tamil Nadu who outplayed Karnataka in all departments. After scoring 354/8 in 50 overs, thanks to Narayan Jagadeesan's ton and Shahrukh Khan's unbeaten 79, Tamil Nadu then dismissed Karnataka for 203 runs to register a huge win.

Put to bat first, Tamil Nadu lost Baba Aparajith early on, but Jagadeesan (102) and Sai Kishore (61) steadied the ship. They were involved in a 147-run partnership, which set the platform for the rest of the batters. In fact, Jagadeesan was at his menacing best, scoring more than run a ball to complete his hundred, which comprised ten hits to the fence and one six. If Jagadeesan starred initially, Shahrukh scored an unbeaten 79 from 39 balls to power his team with big sixes to a big total. For Karnataka, Praveen Dubey scalped three wickets.

Karnataka opener Devdutt Padikkal got out for a duck in the second over during the chase. The likes of Rohan Kadam, (24), KV Siddharth (29), Srinivas Sharath (43) and Abhinav Manohar (34) got off to decent starts, but failed to convert it into a big score.

One could not really blame them as the increasing required run rate was putting pressure on them. TN medium pacer Ragupathy Silambarasan had four scalps at the end of the day while Washington Sundar complemented him well with three wickets.

Omicron sweeps across US, accounts for 73% of cases

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention numbers show a six-fold increase in Omicron's share of infections in only one week

COVID

NEW YORK: Omicron has raced ahead of other variants and is now the dominant version of the coronavirus in the US, accounting for 73% of new infections last week, federal health officials said Monday.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention numbers showed nearly a six-fold increase in Omicron's share of infections in only one week.

In much of the country, it's even higher. Omicron is responsible for an estimated 90% or more of new infections in the New York area, the Southeast, the industrial Midwest and the Pacific Northwest.

The national rate suggests that more than 650,000 Omicron infections occurred in the US last week.

Since the end of June, the delta variant had been the main version causing US infections. As recently as the end of November, more than 99.5% of coronaviruses were delta, according to CDC data.

CDC Director Dr Rochelle Walensky said the new numbers reflect the kind of growth seen in other countries.

"These numbers are stark, but they're not surprising," she said. Scientists in Africa first sounded the alarm about Omicron less than a month ago and on Nov. 26 the World Health Organization designated it as a "variant of concern." The mutant has since shown up in about 90 countries.

Much about the Omicron variant remains unknown, including whether it causes more or less severe illness. Early studies suggest the vaccinated will need a booster shot for the best chance at preventing Omicron infection but even without the extra dose, vaccination still should offer strong protection against illness and death.

"All of us have a date with Omicron," said Dr Amesh Adalja, a senior scholar at the Johns Hopkins Center for Health Security. "If you're going to interact with society, if you're going to have any type of life, Omicron will be something you encounter, and the best way you can encounter this is to be fully vaccinated."

Adalja said he was not surprised by the CDC data showing Omicron overtaking delta in the US, given what was seen in South Africa, the UK and Denmark. He predicted spread over the holidays, including breakthrough infections among the vaccinated and serious complications among the unvaccinated that could stress hospitals already burdened by delta. Dr Eric Topol, head of the Scripps Research Translational Institute, said other countries had seen Omicron's fast growth, but the US data showed "a remarkable jump in such a short time."

Topol also said it's unclear how much milder Omicron really is compared with other variants. "That's the big uncertainty now."

CDC's estimates are based on thousands of coronavirus specimens collected each week through university and commercial laboratories and state and local health departments. Scientists analyze their genetic sequences to determine which versions of the Covid-19 viruses are most abundant.

On Monday, the CDC revised its estimate for Omicron cases for the week that ended Dec. 11, after analyzing more samples. About 13% of the cases that week were from Omicron, not the 3% previously reported. The week before, Omicron accounted for just 0.4% of cases.

CDC officials said they do not yet have estimates of how many hospitalizations or deaths are due to Omicron.

Though there remain a lot of new infections caused by the delta variant, "I anticipate that over time that delta will be crowded out by Omicron," Walensky said.

POLAND's IMMIGRANT WALL IS A DISASTER IN THE MAKING

Poland is planning to build a wall along its border with Belarus, primarily to block migrants fleeing the Middle East and Asia. But the wall would also divide the vast and ancient Białowieza Forest, a UNESCO World Heritage site, which harbours more than 12,000 animal species and includes the largest remnants of primeval forest that once covered most of lowland Europe

WALL OF WOE

HOSTING DIVERSE SPECIES

The core of Białowieza is characterised by old-growth forest rich in dead and decaying wood on which mosses, lichens, fungi, insects and also many vertebrates depend. Big animals such as the European bison, boar, lynx and wolf inhabit the forest on both sides of the border

BLOCKING MOVEMENT

A wall would block the movement of these animals, for instance preventing brown bears from recolonising the Polish side of the forest where they were recently observed after a long absence. The wall would also risk plant invasions, and would mean noise and light pollution that will displace wildlife

COST OF HUMAN INTERACTION

The influx of people and vehicles, and already accumulated garbage (mainly plastics) also pose risks, including disease – humans can transmit Covid to wild species, like deer

2,16,200 HA AREA OF BELARUSIAN BIOSPHERE RESERVE IN 2015

141,885 HA TOTAL AREA OF THE BIAŁOWIEZA FOREST WORLD HERITAGE SITE

BIAŁOWIEZA FOREST

It is one of the last and largest remaining parts of the immense primeval forest that once stretched across the European Plain. UNESCO's Man and the Biosphere Programme designated the Polish Biosphere Reserve Białowieza in 1976 and the Belarusian Biosphere Reserve Belovezhskaya Puschcha in 1993

IMPEDING WILDLIFE MORE THAN PEOPLE

US-MEXICO

Empirical data suggest walls deter people less than they impede wildlife, a case in point being the Donald Trump's US-Mexico border. Animals affected by the barrier include jaguars, pygmy owls, and bison whose food and water were split by the border

SLOVENIA-CROATIA

Fences across Europe are highly varied and no mitigation standards exist. A razor-wire fence constructed in 2015 by Slovenia along its border with Croatia killed deer and herons with a mortality rate of 0.12 ungulates (hoofed mammals) per km of fence

HUNGARY-CROATIA

Along the Hungary-Croatia border, mortality in the first 28 months following construction of a fence was higher, at 0.47 ungulates per km. Large congregations of red deer were also observed at the fence-line which could spread disease and upset the predator-prey dynamic

People can and will use ramps, tunnels, and alternative routes by air and sea, whereas wildlife cannot. They may also redirect people to more dangerous routes

HEIGHT

5.5 metres

130 km

Will replace a 130 km provisional 2.5m high razor-wire fence built during summer to autumn 2021

32,000 km

Extent of physical barriers such as fences and walls worldwide

Mammal species could now find it difficult to cross into different countries, thwarting their adaptation to climate change, say experts

■ It will be solid, with barbed wire at the top. This wall will be high enough to affect low-flying birds, such as grouse

BORDER SECURITY OVER CLIMATE ACTION

NATIONALISM OVER NATURE

According to the Transnational Institute, wealthy nations are prioritising border security over climate action against the COP26 pledges. Some of the 257 World Heritage forests are now releasing more carbon than they absorb

BYPASSING LAWS

The construction of such walls also tends to bypass or be at odds with environmental laws drafted as part of action against climate change. They devalue conservation investment and hamper cross-boundary cooperation

Embracer adds Dark Horse, Perfect World to its portfolio

STOCKHOLM: Swedish video game publisher Embracer announced Tuesday five separate acquisitions, including US comic book publisher and media producer Dark Horse and online games publisher Perfect World Entertainment (PWE). Dark Horse Comics has operated since the 1980s and created comic book versions of popular franchises including "Star Wars" and Netflix show "Stranger Things", while Dark Horse Entertainment has produced the "Hellboy" films and "The Umbrella Academy" series. Meanwhile PWE-owned Cryptic Studios makes online multiplayer games based on "Star Trek" and "Dungeons and Dragons". In addition to PWE and Dark Horse, Embracer was acquiring Florida game developer Shiver Entertainment, Hungarian animation studio DIGIC and German ad-supported video-on-demand network Spotfilm Networx, the company said. Embracer's latest acquisitions end a year of expansion, after the company announced last week it had opened talks to acquire French board game giant Asmodee.

CHINA'S RIVAL

Portugal to tap into its vast reserves of lithium

GEOLOGY

Portugal next year could approve lithium mining that will reduce Europe's dependence on outside sources for a key ingredient in the frenetic global race to decarbonise the auto industry. The southern European nation is thought to have the continent's largest lithium reserves. Alongside nickel and cobalt, lithium has become a prized raw material as it is a vital element in the production of electric vehicle batteries.

Demand is soaring as manufacturers scramble to produce low-emission fleets and governments seek to phase out fossil fuel-powered vehicles in the battle against climate change.

Portugal's environment regulator will deliver its verdict on the approval of a major new lithium mine in the north of the country in early 2022.

With lithium mostly mined in Australia and South America while China dominates the supply chain, the regulator's decision could bolster Europe's independent supplies of the coveted resource.

China -- simultaneously viewed as an economic rival and partner in many Western capitals -- controls more than 40 percent of world lithium production and almost 60 percent of global lithium refining capacity.

Highest-ever divorce settlement awarded by a British court; sheikh had abducted two daughters & hacked ex-wife's phone with Pegasus

Dubai ruler told to pay ex-wife $700 mn in divorce case

LONDON

THE ruler of Dubai was on Tuesday ordered to pay his former wife and children around £550 million ($730 million) in what is thought to be the highest divorce settlement set by an English court.

Sheikh Mohammed bin Rashid Al-Maktoum was told he must pay Princess Haya Bint Al Hussein, a half-sister of Jordan's King Abdullah II, a lump sum of £251.5 million and provide a bank guarantee of £290 million to cover the children's maintenance and security as adults.

The 72-year-old ruler of the emirate of Dubai has been locked in a lengthy and bitter legal battle with his 47-year-old former wife, who lives in London with their two children, aged 13 and nine.

Judge Philip Moor said the massive settlement was partly to ensure security, due to the risk of the children's abduction by their father, who is also vice-president and PM of the United Arab Emirates.

The family "need water-tight security", the judge said, adding: "The main threat they face is from (Sheikh Mohammed) himself".

The High Court case has previously ruled that the sheikh authorised the use of spying software Pegasus to hack his ex-wife's phones and that he had forcibly returned two of his elder daughters to Dubai.

Judge Moor said Tuesday's vast settlement was justified by the "exceptional wealth and remarkable standard of living enjoyed by these children during the marriage".

Lavish lifestyle

Previously the largest such settlement was approximately £450 million to Tatiana Akhmedova, the ex-wife of a Russian billionaire, in 2016.

The ruling detailed the lavish lifestyle led by the ruler's ex-wife and her children.

The sheikh, who did not attend court, said that before their separation he had annually paid the children allowances worth £18 million, as well as £83 million for household expenses and £9 million for his then-wife's personal spending.

He ceased direct payments to Princess Haya when she left for London, and the judge said she had since sold jewellery, handbags and horses worth over £15 million.

The ruling also revealed that during her marriage she paid £6.7 million in blackmail money to four members of her security team after she had an affair with one of them.

This was cited by her ex-husband as evidence she misspent funds intended for her children. The judge said this was an error of judgement but she must have been "very frightened at this point". AFP

The main threat they face is from (the sheikh) himself... This is compounded by the full weight of the state that he has available to him as seen by his ability to make use of the Pegasus software, which is only available to governments

Defeat in PTI's K-P stronghold shows Imran's waning appeal

ISLAMABAD

PAKISTAN Prime Minister Imran Khan's ruling party conceded on Tuesday defeat in the local body elections in a province in which it has long held sway. This indicates the military-backed PM's waning popularity.

Khan admitted that the Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaaf (PTI) made 'mistakes' in the first phase of Khyber-Pakhtunkhwa local government elections, media reported.

The PTI secured only six seats while opposition parties won 21, results showed. Couting in 34 seats is still going on, but provisional results show a similar trend, Bloomberg News reported.

"The loss in local body elections in a stronghold of PTI is a reflection of declining PTI support. This is mainly due to economic conditions -- low growth, high inflation and high unemployment," Memoona Tanveer from Dawood Equities, told Bloomberg.

Jamiat Ulema-e-Islam-Fazl (JUI-F) cruised to victory with its candidate grabbing the pivotal post of the Peshawar Mayor in the local government elections.

According to unofficial results, JUI-F's Zubair Ali won with a margin of around 11,500 votes after securing 62,388, whereas PTI's Rizwan Bangash received 50,669 votes and PPP's Zarak Arbab got 45,000 votes.

Pakistan is reeling from very high inflation. "There are several factors, which could be attributed to the better performance of JUI-F, but people fully expressed their lack of trust in the PTI due to its poor governance, inflation and delivery of services," Professor Hussain Shaheed Soherwordi from the University of Peshawar told the Dawn newspaper.

China rejects Indian-origin pick for Tibet's US coordinator

BEIJING

CHINA on Tuesday reacted angrily to the US move to appoint Indian-origin diplomat Uzra Zeya as America's Special Coordinator for Tibetan Issues, saying it will never recognise her designation as it amounted to interference in its internal affairs.

While designating Zeya as Special Coordinator for Tibetan Issues, US Secretary of State Antony Blinken said that she has been tasked with promoting "substantive dialogue" between China and the Dalai Lama or his representatives in support of a negotiated agreement on Tibet.

Responding to questions on Zeya's appointment, Chinese Foreign Ministry spokesman Zhao Lijian told a media briefing in Beijing that Tibetan affairs "are purely China's domestic affairs. They brook no foreign interference".

Uzra Zeya

"By designating a so-called special coordinator for Tibetan issues the US is interfering in China's domestic affairs. China firmly rejects this. We never recognise this designation,' he said.

He asked the US to take "concrete actions to abide by its commitment of recognising Tibet as part of China and not supporting Tibet independence and stop using Tibetan related issues to interfere in China's domestic affairs. China will continue to take all measures to firmly safeguard our sovereignty, security and development interests.' PTI

US exemptions on Afghan sanctions blocked by China

UNITED NATIONS

CHINA, backed by Russia, has blocked a US draft resolution in the UN Security Council that would have provided a system for humanitarian exceptions to economic sanctions imposed on Taliban-controlled Afghanistan.

"They want the deletion" of a paragraph of the resolution allowing the sanctions committee responsible for Afghanistan to provide "exemptions from the freezing of assets" if it considers that "such a waiver is necessary to facilitate further assistance to Afghanistan," a diplomat told AFP on condition of anonymity.

China, which is "opposed in principle to sanctions," is "against a case-by-case exemption mechanism," another diplomat confirmed.

"Humanitarian aid and lifesaving assistance must be able to reach the Afghan people without any hindrance," China's UN Ambassador Zhang Jun said in a tweet. "Artificially created conditions or restrictions are not acceptable."

Washington was hoping for approval on Monday of their draft by the other 14 members of the Security Council, so that they could put it to a vote on Tuesday, diplomatic sources said. "There are currently no humanitarian exemptions from the sanctions regime" imposed on the Taliban in 2015 and for aid workers to "carry out financial transactions with ministries headed by people under sanctions would violate sanctions," said a diplomat.

Having abandoned the disputed paragraph on case-by-case exemptions, the United States submitted a new draft stating that, for the period of one year, humanitarian assistance would not be deemed to violate sanctions.

Martin Griffiths, the UN's head of humanitarian affairs, said that "the need for liquidity and stabilization of the banking system is now urgent -- not only to save the lives of the Afghan people but also to enable humanitarian organizations to respond." AFP

PHILIPPINE PROVINCE OF 1.2 MN OUT OF FOOD, FEARS LOOTING

MANILA

The governor of a central Philippine province devastated last week by Typhoon Rai pleaded on radio Tuesday for the government to quickly send food and other aid, warning that without outside help, army troops and police would have to be deployed to prevent looting because of growing hunger.

Governor Arthur Yap of Bohol province said he could no longer provide rice and other food aid after his contingency fund ran out and that many of the 1.2 million people in his island province, which remained without power and cellphone service five days after the typhoon struck, have become increasingly desperate.

The most powerful typhoon to hit the Philippine archipelago this year left at least 375 dead and more than 50 missing, mostly in the central region, including nearly 100 dead in Bohol, according to officials.

President Rodrigo Duterte visited Bohol over the weekend to see the extensive devastation. Yap said the government's social welfare department promised to send 35,000 food packs, an inadequate amount for the province's 375,000 families, but even those have not yet arrived.

In an interview on DZBB radio network, Yap thanked Duterte for visiting his province but said, "If you would not send money for food, you should send soldiers and police, because if not, lootings will break out here."

Some looting mostly of merchandise stores have occurred, Yap said, adding that the situation remained under control. But he warned that the looting could worsen if people, especially in hard-hit island municipalities, grow more desperate. People cannot withdraw money from banks without phone connections and power. AP

Fuel prices hiked, govt may bring in rationing

Sri Lanka raised fuel prices Tuesday and warned of possible petrol rationing with importers struggling to pay for oil, in a worsening economic crisis that has also sparked food shortages. The move comes just days after ratings agency Fitch downgraded the country over fears of a sovereign default on its $26 billion foreign debt. Foreign exchange reserves are almost depleted and the island's only refinery was shut last month.

Hindu temple statues destroyed in Karachi

The statues of deities at a Hindu temple in this Pakistani city have been destroyed, the police said on Tuesday, the latest instance of vandalism against places of worship of the minority community in this country. It took place at the Narayan Mandir in Karachi's old city of Narainpura on Monday evening. A man, identified as Muhammad Waleed Shabbir, has been arrested, police said. He was arrested on the complaint of a Hindu man, Mukesh Kumar, who with his wife was at the Narayan Mandir.

NEW TWIST IN ERDOGANOMICS CAUSES LIRA TO REBOUND

ISTANBUL

TURKEY'S currency made significant gains on Tuesday after President Recep Tayyip Erdogan announced extraordinary measures that aim to safeguard deposits in the lira against volatility seen in recent weeks and boost confidence in Turks as they have watched their buying power erode.

The Turkish lira hit an all-time low of 18.36 against the U.S. dollar Monday, meaning it had lost more than 60% of its value against the American currency this year. But it made overnight gains after Erdogan's announcement, rebounding to a high of 11.09 Tuesday and later trading at 13.01.

The currency has been on a rollercoaster ride since the country's Central Bank began lowering interest rates in September, with the lira hitting record lows as Erdogan dug in on the rate-cutting policy despite high inflation.

The weakened lira drove consumer prices higher, making imports, fuel and everyday items more expensive and leaving many people in the country of more than 84 million struggling to buy food and other basics. Many flocked to foreign currencies and gold to hold on to their savings.

In response, Erdogan said on Monday that the government would cover losses by lira deposit holders in cases where the lira's depreciation against foreign currencies exceeds bank interest rates.

"From now on, our citizens won't need to switch their deposits from Turkish lira to foreign currency, fearing that the exchange rate will be higher," Erdogan said.

But critics say the measure is unsustainable, burdening the public budget by making it more vulnerable to currency fluctuations. They say it could cause more inflation.

Ali Babacan, Erdogan's former finance minister, called the new measure a "hidden interest rate hike."

'Livestream queen' handles disappear

Beijing: The social media accounts of an influencer known as China's 'livestreaming queen' disappeared on Tuesday, after she was ordered to pay a record $200 million fine for tax evasion. Huang Wei, known by her username Viya, is one of China's most prominent livestreamers in an e-commerce sector that has accelerated its rapid growth despite the coronavirus pandemic that took hold last year. Boasting over 110 million followers on social media Viya reportedly sold products worth a total of 8.5 billion yuan ($1.3 billion) in just one evening during China's recent Singles' Day shopping festival.

Plane makers say 5G may disrupt radio altimeters

Paris: Aerospace giants Airbus and Boeing on Tuesday warned the US aviation industry had "concerns" about the potential interference of 5G networks with vital flight safety equipment. The intervention increases pressure on US regulators in an ongoing dispute between airlines and mobile operators over the rollout of the high-speed mobile broadband tech. Airbus Americas chief executive Jeff Knittel and Boeing boss David Calhoun co-signed a letter to US Transportation Secretary Pete Buttigieg, an Airbus spokesman said. "Airbus and Boeing have been working with other aviation industry stakeholders in the US to understand potential 5G interference with radio altimeters," which measure a plane's height above the ground.

On a health trail

FROM vacations and staycations, the new term for travel that's been making the rounds is healthcations. From attending nine-day courses to three-week courses, Bengalureans are now thronging health retreat centres for therapeutic benefits. Yoga, meditation, foot reflexology and reiki therapies are explored by many as health experts are addressing lifestyle and psychological-related problems since the pandemic.

Kanika Khurana, Bengaluru-based banking professional, has already made two trips to beat stress and is now planning for a third one. The 29-year-old believes that the pandemic and pressure from work is urging her to travel, not just to explore, but to travel with a purpose.

"I already visited Goa and Kodagu in the last two months. I attended yoga and meditation sessions to rejuvenate during these trips. However, after New Year, I am planning a healthcation trip for at least 12 days to a yoga centre at Himachal Pradesh. The aim is to attain peace, solitude and break away from my nine hours work life," says Khurana.

Travel destinations that are predominantly known for exotic locations, now seem to be the place for healthcations. Himalayan Iyengar Yoga Centre in Goa has already seen over 60 per cent of bookings for Christmas and year-end season. According to Sharat Arora, a yoga teacher and founder of the center, Bengaluru was among the leading cities to have people visit the place in the recent months. Thanks to the work-from-home culture, many working professionals are now heading to the centre for five-days and nine-days healthcations.

"Working professionals between the age group of 30 and 50 come with posture imbalance, wrist pain, stress and depression due to working from home. Here, we deal with asana-based therapies over a period of nine days that can help heal back pain, spondylitis, and flat feet, among others. We've also seen many from Bengaluru join and some cases of post-covid recoveries," says Arora, who also adds that there's yoga for women to deal with issues like PCOD, painful periods, irregular periods, and so on.

Raghavendra Chandrashekar, a Thai Yoga massage expert and founder of IMOSHA Thai Yoga Massage School, Mysuru, says there has been a shift of visitors at the centre since the pandemic. "We used to see many foreigners as visitors before. Now, we get more Indians, especially from Bengaluru, attending the therapeutic sessions. Through myofascial healing techniques to energy healing modalities like singing bowl, amatarot, guasa, we are addressing many lifestyle problems that people are facing," says Chandrashekar.

SwaSwara, a wellness retreat in Gokarna, has introduced Spirit of Life, a combination of yoga meditation and nutritious food course during the pandemic. According to the officials at SwaSwara, domestic travellers are visiting the retreat post the pandemic.

The dishes prepared at the retreat are organically grown vegetables, tropical and seasonal fruits, and only fish delicacies. The Spirit of Life focuses on activities like nature trails, bird watching, cooking healthy cuisines, pottery making, guided yoga asana sessions that are aimed at achieving inner peace and positivity within onself.

According to the spokesperson of Isha Foundation, a non-profit, spiritual organisation, the inner-engineering retreats that take place every weekend are among the popular therapeutic sessions, followed by advanced yoga courses like angamardana, yogasanas and surya kriya.

It's all about sprinkles, gingerbread house and marshmallow these days as bakers are getting creative with edible Christmas kits

IF there's one thing that the lockdowns and the pandemic have taught us, it's to find interesting ways to stay entertained at home. And with the rising number of cases in the state, some Bengalureans are still making the most at home this festive season. One of the ways to do so is by ordering some fun do-it-yourself edible goodies and having a delicious party at home.

Freeda Lazar, founder of Freddies Baking Studio, is known for making seasonable goodies and Christmas-themed edibles is definitely on her list. Speaking to CE, she says, "The response has been overwhelming that we're working on restocking them up for the upcoming days!"

The do-it-yourself (DIY) gingerbread house kit has been a hot favourite for Freddies Baking Studio. "This one will make about a six-inch tall gingerbread house and it also has a snowman and Christmas tree with it. We also have Christmas cookie tins which have a set of six cookies that come with an edible palette and a paintbrush," adds Lazar.

Anushree Kanoria of Dough Re Mi food delivery service has a fun popcorn list to keep up with the festivities. "We make pesto, truffle, candy cane and double chocolate popcorn. We can also customise the flavours as per request if needed," says Kanoria, who works with her mother-in-law Archana Kanoria.

Hot chocolate bombs became a trend earlier this year. Hiba Mariam, popularly known as The Sweet Whisk on Instagram, has a hot chocolate marshmallow kit available as a gifting option. She says, "This is one of our favourite DIY and home hot chocolate products. So there's an instant hot chocolate mix, hot chocolate dippers, marshmallows and a mug that you can gift." If that's not enough, she also makes a s'mores kit that looks like a Christmas tree. "It comes with the option of adding handmade edible Christmas elements to it," she says.

Araku Coffee in Indiranagar has collaborated with pastry artist Joonie Tan of Lavonne Academy for the DIY kits of gingerbread cookies and an assortment of sprinkles and icing. Rahul Sharma, head chef of Araku, says, "Joonie's cakes are a piece of artwork. This whole concept of DIY cookies is something that children and adults will love to experience and take home as a gift."

FIT BIT

EKA PADA HASTASANA

(HAND-TO-LEG FORWARD BEND SITTING)

In Sanskrit, 'eka' means one, 'pada' means foot, 'hasta' means hand and asana means seat. It is beneficial on more than a physical level because it is thought to be a very calming and soothing posture. The asymmetrical nature of this asana may provide additional stimulation into the abdominal area, as well as for the nerves and musculature around the spine. It is connected with Muladhara, the root chakra.

STEPS

- Sit on the floor with your spine erect.
- Keep your feet as far away from each other as possible.
- Place the right foot at a 45-degree angle to the left foot. The angle may vary as per the convenience of every practitioner. Square the hips to the left.
- Align the feet such that the heel of the left foot is in line with the arch of the right foot.
- Then, keep the legs straight.
- Now, slowly twist your body towards your left side. Exhale, catch the left leg toe by your right hand.
- Then, bring your left hand around your hip and touch your right side abdomen with your left palm. Now, slightly raise your forehead to gaze forward.
- Relax in the final pose and breathe normally.
- You can engage in Jalandhara Bandha if the forehead is touching the knee.
- This increases the stretch in the back of the body.
- To release the pose, inhale, lift your torso and raise both hands.
- Now exhale, extend your left leg and bring your arms down to the sides.
- Relax and repeat the same procedure while stretching your leg on the other side.

BENEFITS

- Helps to release stress, and calm your mind.
- Regular practice helps to relieve headache, fatigue, and anxiety.
- Stimulates and massages the kidneys and liver.
- Increases flexibility of hamstring muscles, arms, back, thighs, and shoulders.
- Therapeutic for insomnia and high blood pressure.
- Strengthens your stomach organs and improves digestion.

LIMITATIONS

- If you have any recent medical concerns, discuss with your yoga master before practicing this asana.
- If you are suffering from asthma, spondylosis, heart disease, lumbar disc herniation or diarrhea, avoid this.
- If you are suffering from a serious back or knee injury, practise this pose under the guidance of a yoga teacher.
- It can be modified by placing the hands on the leg that the body is folded over, or using a bolster or cushion to rest upon.

Rachna Bisht

Jangi Qaidi
5 December 1971
Uttarlai Airbase (5 km from Barmer) India
0840 hours

TWO daredevil fighter pilots belonging to 220 Squadron, Desert Tigers, are on a ground attack mission. Sqn Ldr K.K. Bakshi, nicknamed Joe, and Flt Lt Jawahar Lal Bhargava, nicknamed Brother, have taken off in their HF-24 aircraft (popularly called the Marut). They have been tasked with crossing the international border and following a route that shall take them to the Pakistani airfield of Naya Chor, from where they have to turn left and go to Umarkot, then turn east and head back to India. Their mission is to identify and destroy targets of opportunity en route-like military trains, tanks, army units, camel convoys and vehicles. The Maruts are fully laden with rockets, guns and bombs.

Nearly fifty years later, Air Commodore J.L. Bhargava leans back on the sofa in his Panchkula bungalow, a boyish smile playing on his lips, and tells me about that day. 'Sometimes, fighter pilots are told to take down pinpointed objectives, but that day we had been told to identify possible targets and destroy them,' he says.

So the two pilots fly low and check out the area carefully. 'We found nothing in Naya Chor,' remembers Bhargava, 'but around the airfield, we spotted Pakistan's field formation units. We swooped down, deployed our rockets and then pulled up quickly. Pilots are trained to get out of the area they have attacked immediately to avoid ricochet fire.'

The first attack goes well, but just as Bhargava is going down for the second, enemy anti-aircraft guns start blazing, and his Marut is caught in a hail of bullets.

Naya Chor, Pakistan
0920 hours

Bhargava is about to swoop down for the second attack when he hears the repeated beep of the audio-warning signal. The red light is flashing, and he realises that his plane is on fire.

The constant beeps of the fire warning in the claustrophobic cockpit are starting to unnerve him. He leans forward to switch it off. A bead of sweat trickles down his forehead. It drips down his face and, making its way past the chinstrap of his helmet, finds its way into his neck.

Bhargava is itching to wipe it off, but his hands are on the control stick that doesn't seem to be responding at all.

The Marut's hydraulics have failed, making it very heavy to the touch, and Bhargava is still struggling with the controls when he finds that his left engine has packed up and his radio communication is disabled. In the vast, unending expanse of the sky, he is now completely alone-and in enemy territory.

He aborts the second attack and turns to head back home. Down below him is an unending stretch of uninhabited desert sand. He releases his bombs to lighten the aircraft load so that it is easier to handle. Altitude is dropping steadily, and as Bhargava crosses a deserted mosque, he realises that his aircraft speed has fallen drastically.

Staying calm by reminding himself that India is not too far, Bhargava is struggling with the controls when he finds his second engine spluttering. He now knows a crash is inevitable. If he doesn't eject, he will go down with the Marut.

Author Sugata Srinivasaraju's latest book gives an account of JD(S) supremo's vast political career and some of the lesser known facts

THE MAN AND HIS VISION

Other Prime Ministers before him either had cultural capital or were from the Hindi belt. But Deve Gowda was the only one who did not have any of this infrastructure
Sugata Srinivasaraju, author

MONIKA MONALISA

DID you know as a tribute to former Prime Minister HD Devegowda, farmers in Punjab have named a rare variety of rice crops by his name? Author Sugata Srinivasaraju has penned down more such lesser known facts in his latest book Furrows in a Field: Furrows in a Field: The Unexplored Life of HD Deve Gowda (Penguin Random House, ₹799) which is a biography of the former prime minister.

The book saw a grand launch by MN Venkatachaliah, former chief justice of India on December 20 at Taj West End, Bengaluru, in the presence of JD(S) supremo himself. The other guests included SS Meenakshisundaram, former secretary to government of India, Chiranjeevi Singh, former ambassador of India to UNESCO and BL Shankar, former chairman, Karnataka Legislative Council.

Srinivasaraju said that it was nothing less of a task for him to condense down Gowda's vast political career into the book. "He has read the book and critically communicated to me that I have been fair to him, his work and his politics," says Srinivasaraju, adding that Gowda was the one "who never traded his self esteem for power".

Speaking about what makes Gowda different from other prime ministers, the author says Gowda was someone who was always ranked as an outsider. "The other prime ministers before him either had socio-capital, cultural capital or were from the Hindi belt. Deve Gowda was the only one who did not have any of this infrastructure," says Srinivasaraju, pointing out unlike Narendra Modi, Gowda was not propelled by any organisations.

The book has explained in detail Gowda's contribution to irrigation and water sharing mechanisms. "I have been looking at World Bank documents on how he rehabilitated people for the Krishna basin project. Till date, World Bank quotes this as the finest packages that have ever been given," says Srinivasaraju, who has been a journalist for the past 25 years.

While writing about the Farakka treaty, which he 'looked at very closely' for which he spoke to the people of Bangladesh, he says the calculations done have not created any problem in the last 25 years.

"That's the accuracy with which he did it and there is a story behind it. Jyoti Basu, then CM of West Bengal, was very afraid to go ahead with it because that was something that would affect the state. People in Bihar supporting his government did not want it because a huge flood relief fund will be cancelled. There were lots of vested interests," he explains. He continues, "One day, in a meeting, Deve Gowda says to Basu 'I will handle Sheikh Hasina and we will do it'."

Gowda's dedication to work and politics is completely unmissable. "I have seen many Chief Ministers and Prime Ministers but he was that one person who used to wake up at 4-4.30 am, reads the file and makes notes," says Meenakshisundaram, adding that a part of credit for Bengaluru's IT park and international airport should also go to him.

Praising the works of Srinivasaraju, Singh says, in the book, the author has brought out the not a politician but the man HD Devegowda.

"This is a biography in which he looks at the beauty of Kashmir and thinks I should have brought along my wife. In the future people must be talking about his achievements in Bangladesh, Kashmir, agriculture etc, but in a political biography to maintain a balance of personal, professional and political is very difficult," says Singh.

Kafeel Khan's book on Gorakhpur tragedy

Kafeel Khan, the doctor embroiled in the August 2017 Gorakhpur hospital incident controversy, has written a book on the subject. Titled The Gorakhpur Hospital Tragedy, A Doctor's Memoir of a Deadly Medical Crisis the memoir presents Khan's version of the incident and subsequent developments that have kept him on the firing line ever since. "My book is an honest, heartfelt account of the terrible events of Aug 10, 2017, and after. I dedicate it to all the parents who lost their children in the tragedy. This book is dedicated to those 63 children and 18 adults," says Khan. "I thought of giving readers facts and evidence. This is not only the story about me. It is about kids and adults who died, and about families who are waiting for justice." The book, claims Khan, has stories that expose the system's failures and exposes "real culprits". The Gorakhpur hospital tragedy took place on August 7, 2017 when oxygen disruption led to the death of 63 children. —IANS

AN ODE TO TOMATOES

Writer, comedian

THE last month brought in sorrow, with the news of a few vegetables' prices soaring above the 100 rupees per kilo mark. Caused by heavy rains, the price-rise brought much discomfort to both farmers and consumers. Some of those vegetables were the usual suspects — capsicum, brinjal — those two overrated brother-vegetables that enjoy a niche audience and high prices. Onions were there on the list too, but our nation is no stranger to the antics of onions.

Onion prices have toppled governments in the past and shaken up hastily made coalitions of the previous decade. Our nation has its own methods of dealing with sky-rocketing onion prices. Sometimes, we are told that there is great virtue in eating 'satwik' food, without onion and garlic. In fact, the humble garlic is not given credit. It is an indispensable part of our diet; adds taste and flavour — but never throws tantrums of price-rise and stock-shortage.

But to see tomato in the list of vegetables was a little surprising to me. India has a rich, enviable food culture dating back to thousands of years. In this long history, tomato has made a fairly recent entry. The first tomato was brought by the Portuguese in the 16th century, and its successors quickly made themselves an important part of our diet. Travel to any part of the country, and you will find the humble tomato having assimilated with the local culture. From the Punjabis, who add copious amounts of tomatoes in their Paneer Butter Masala. To down south, where we literally bathe the dish with tomato, resulting in 'tomato bath'.

The tomatoes were such a part of our culture, that they entered our cinema too. Imaginative directors of the '80s used tomatoes (along with lemons, mangoes and other vegetables) to show budding love in the era of kiss-less cinema. Even modern filmmakers were not immune — remember the film Zindagi Milegi Na Dobara? Where the leads broke their shackles from middle-class problems by hurling tomatoes at each other in the La Tomatina?

While the prices have thankfully stabilised since, there were reports that this could have caused a shortage in the market. I cannot claim to know much about the commodities market, but it made me appreciate the many ways tomatoes found its way to my stomach everyday. I had begun to dread a time when ketchup sachets are not handed out wherever I go. Will the gold-coated samosa in a theatre taste the same without a packet of ketchup? In fact, one dares say — will our lives even be the same without the humble sachet of ketchup being silently peddled to us? From movie halls, to restaurants, to roadside 'Chinese' stalls, to airplanes. Imagine being given the ghastly mayonnaise with samosas. Or having a plate of sinfully delicious chow-mein desecrated by pudina chutney!

Philosophers often ask us to appreciate what we have today, instead of lamenting about the past, and worrying miserably about the future. Last month's spike of inflation made me appreciate the value of the tomato in my life. There are several vegetables that are native to India. Brinjal, bitter-gourd, and drumsticks. While they are all cool in their own ways, tomato is a red vegetable that makes all the others green with envy.

Pumpkin may be the 'National Vegetable' of India. The tomato was not born in this land. In fact, in many languages, the tomato is literally called 'vilayati' — meaning 'foreigner'. And yet, the tomato has found its way into our lives, our cuisines, and our systems.

Kashmira

'SOUTH INDIAN FILM INDUSTRY MAKES SOME OF THE BEST FILMS'

In this chat, actor Kashmira talks about her Kannada debut Rider, working with the lead hero, Nikhil Kumaraswamy, in the romantic commercial entertainer, directed by Vijay Kumar Konda

A SHARADHAA

DESPITE having no film background, actor Kashmira has made a mark in three film industries - Telugu, Marathi, Hindi, and Tamil. With Rider, she is now foraying into Sandalwood. "South Indian film industries make some of the best films, and I am happy to be part of a new film industry," says Kashmira. "I received a warm and respectful treatment during all of the shoots in the Kannada industry. I think with that kind of comfort, they can do a better job," Kashmira tells us ahead of the film's release on December 24.

Rider, a romantic entertainer, directed by Vijay Kumar Konda, has Kashmira paired opposite Nikhil Kumaraswamy. "It is one of the many projects in the country that went on and off due to Covid. So, it became difficult to maintain the same look for two-and-a-half years. Otherwise, it was all a smooth journey because of the team. For me, to work on a project backed by Lahari Films and Shivanandi Entertainments was a big deal. Nikhil, my co-star, was a gentleman. Above all, director Vijay Kumar Konda had a good story consisting of love and action. Arjun Janya holds the film with some good music, and DOP Shreesha Kuduvalli has shot some good frames," says Kashmira.

The actor plays the character, Sowmya, who is based out of the United States. She comes to India on a mission, and she does not give up her goal against all odds. "The director has given equal importance to the hero and the heroine. I have some intense scenes and a lot of scopes to perform," says this model-turned-actor, who says a particular rain sequence in the film is her favourite scene from the film, which was also challenging for her as an actor.

Rider also helped Kashmira know a lot about Bengaluru, and according to her, the city is more like Pune. "I liked Bengaluru for the weather but hated the traffic," says Kashmira, who had a lot of travelling to do for Rider including a visit to Leh-Ladak.

For any actor, who is making her foray into a new industry, especially in the south, there is a hesitation about the audience's reception. To which Kashmira says, "In my opinion, it is not about north and south. It is about passion for cinema. That is what comes to me first. I come from a theatre background, where I learned the language is auxiliary. Language is always something we can work on. And I love working in regional languages. Wherever I go, I try to pick up the land's language," she signs off.

PREMAM POOJYAM SEQUEL ON CARDS

CE FEATURES

AS Prem's Premam Poojyam, directed by debutant Raghavendra BS, is still running successfully in theatres, the makers have announced that a sequel to the film is on cards.

Raghavendra, a neurologist by profession, who made his directorial debut with Premam Poojyam, confirms that he will be directing the second part. He also added that the message of the first part - Love is worthy of worship - will be reflected in the sequel as well. "However, the sequel will not have the pain and philosophy of the first part. Instead, the sequel will be a mix of mass and class elements. There will be action, entertainment, and humour too. I had planned a sequel even while I was writing part one. I am sure that people will love this side of Premam Poojyam. I had to avoid the commercial elements in part one and bring them to the sequel. I thought that will add value to both the films," says Raghavendra.

Premam Poojyam had a tragic ending. When probed how he will bring back his hero in the sequel, he says, "I have a link that connects part one and two. That's something I want to keep as a secret to keep the audience guessing," he says.

There was a rumour that the second part will be officially launched on February 14 (Valentines Day), but the director denies it. "A sequel is confirmed. However, I have not planned the launch date," says Raghavendra.

Apart from Prem, the first part had Brinda Acharya and Aindrita Ray in pivotal roles. When asked about the cast of the second part, he said, "Prem is part of the sequel. That's confirmed. The rest of the actors will be finalised in the future."

First look of Regina Cassandra from Rocket Boys out

CE FEATURES

IT has been announced that Regina Cassandra portrays the role of Mrinalini Sarabhai in SonyLIV's Rocket Boys. The upcoming series tells the story of Indian physicists Homi J Bhabha and Vikram A Sarabhai, played by Jim Sarbh and Ishwak Singh, respectively. Mrinalini Sarabhai was an esteemed Indian classical dancer and the wife of Vikram A Sarabhai.

The makers released the first-look of Regina as Mrinalini Sarabhai. The show marks her debut in the Hindi OTT space. "As an actor, to get a chance to play such an iconic character on screen for my first ever Hindi OTT release is like a dream come true," Regina shares. "But there is also a great responsibility when you're portraying somebody who is an iconic figure like her. Dancers have a certain body language, and it was a challenge to get it right."

She adds, "Mrinalini ji was a very dignified lady who was not prone to any dramatics, no matter what storm she was facing in her private life. So, it was important to portray her in that form. There was a lot of research and homework that went behind it." Rocket Boys is created by Nikkhil Advani and directed by Abhay Pannu.

MARRIAGE STORY

A still from Decoupled

AT the outset, Netflix's latest release, Decoupled, might seem like the antithesis of love and romance because it tracks a broken marriage, and how worse romantic life can get. And yet, the glimmers of love and hope shared by Madhavan's Arya and Surveen's Shruti is the lifeline of this series. "I liked the take on splitting up. It is normal for people to grow apart. Not all splitting or divorces need to be about something dramatic. There is both a real image and a projected image in a marriage/relationship, and when there is a vast difference in what we are and we are projecting, all that remains is our intent to be together," says a sagely Madhavan tapping into his 22 years of marriage. In this conversation with CE, he is joined by an equally philosophical Surveen Chawla as they discuss marriages, literally and metaphorically.

Marriage of their real and onscreen selves

Surveen Chawla (SC): Playing Shruti was so much fun. There were times when it felt like I was talking to my real-life husband, and not Madhavan's Arya. It was not about the manner of speech, but simply about the way both conduct themselves. The relatability factor is that the basic issues faced by this couple are things we might have experienced. Just because there is relatability, it doesn't mean all couples have to end up like Shruti and Arya. Relationships are always a work in progress.

Madhavan (M): There were so many instances that were well-written; I could see such fights erupting between my wife, Saritha, and me. When you are really fond of each other, the intensity of arguments flares up. But the difference between a marriage that works and one that doesn't is that once this argument is done, any residual anger will not seep into the next conversation. The power equation is reset after every disagreement, and this was written beautifully in the series too. This resetting of the power equation between Shruti and Arya is what gives us the hope that this couple might actually work. I thought it was mature, and it was a great insight into the marriages of today.

Marriage between thinking and acting languages

SC: Having the same acting and thinking language can make all the difference to our performances. Although we are fluent in other languages, English has been the thinking language for both Madhavan and me. The pauses, the commas, the casualness... everything is effortlessly translated from our minds to our dialogues. When I am thinking in English and delivering lines in another, it runs the risk of becoming dialoguey. Also, points to Hardik Mehta (director) and Manu Joseph (writer) for allowing me to put down on paper what Surveen was thinking as Shruti. They gave us the liberty and scope for improvisation.

M: My son Vedanth gave me a huge nod of approval and not only felt that the show looked trendy but was also candid about how the English we spoke didn't feel forced. To be honest, I haven't done anything like this before. Our language of communication at home was English, and we wanted it to have the flow in which the language is spoken in our country.

Marriage between the content and audience

SC: We are not regional actors anymore. In fact, we are global actors and not just pan-Indian. The pandemic propelled the OTT movement, and it has definitely taken centrestage. The world itself has shrunk, and it is important to have the right team and trust them to make the right decisions. But more than anything else, the end game is really the content we are doing. For now, I honestly don't have a preference about the kind of release as long as I am doing the content I love to do.

M: We have to decide if the content is worthy of the format it chooses to be presented in, and that choice has become paramount for the success of the content. Secondly, with experience, it does become an easy and informed choice. There is no way I could make Breathe into a film. Thirdly, having stepped away from the industry for a long time, I am more in touch with what people really want. Kids are now watching anime because they care more about relationships than the VFX. In this pandemic, people don't want to watch morbidity anymore. So, when I read a script and depending on the place where I am in my life, I see if I am able to relate to it. If yes, and then the team is a solid one, I am completely committed to the film/series.

Marriage between reality and social media personas

SC: I am moody when it comes to social media, and I saw the pandemic as an out. I took a social media detox, and honestly, I am happy about this step back.

M: It helps me see how people gauge my work. It is a great insight into misconceptions I had about myself. Of course, there will be bitter and harsh people. Even if we say things in good faith, negativity comes to us sometimes. I have decided not to give them that power.

Also, in this pandemic, people have become negative and bitter; so, occasionally, I do give them that allowance at times and believe that things will look up. It is also important to realise that social media contains a small percentage of people in India. While your world might seem grey when compared to what you see in social media, there are a large percentage of people in the real world who are going through exactly what you are. The picture is not as bleak as we make it out to be. That's why I try to spread cheer on my timeline.
